YUGOSLAVIA BEGINS TO EXPEL ALL HUNGARIANS

Twenty-Seven Thousand of Them Forced to Leave Homes They Have Had for Years—Hundreds of Stream Across Border.

SUDDEN OUSTER MAKES HARSHIPS

Action Results From Bitterness and Charges Over Murder of King Alexander—Budapest Government Notifies League.

By the Associated Press.
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Dec. 6.—The Yugoslav Government, it was announced today, has decided to expel all the 27,000 Hungarians now living in the country. The decision means the uprooting of the entire Hungarian element.

It is stated authoritatively that the expulsion will be a gradual process but will proceed relentlessly. Some 2000 Hungarians already have been deported.

About 300 former Hungarians have found themselves without a country. These had renounced Hungarian citizenship preparatory to becoming Yugoslavs. Hungary had thrown them out and Yugoslavia will not permit them to return. They are living in three towns stranded at the Hungarian-Yugoslav frontier.

Yugoslavia has accused Hungary before the League of Nations of sheltering terrorists alleged to have plotted the assassination of King Alexander and presumably the expulsions are made in connection with this charge.

By the Associated Press.

BUDAPEST, Dec. 6.—Expulsion of hundreds of Hungarians from Yugoslavia yesterday and last night increased the strained tension between the two countries. The Hungarian Minister at Belgrade is understood to have been called to Budapest to discuss the situation.

The official Hungary News Agency said babies and aged and infirm persons were among those forced to leave Yugoslavia.

An American tourist who encountered the refugees at Subotica, Yugoslavia, said one little girl had a tag tied to her coat with her father's address in Hungary written on it.

Bad feeling has existed between Yugoslavia and Hungary since the assassination of King Alexander of Yugoslavia at Marseilles and the subsequent Yugoslav charge at Geneva that Hungary had harbored the terrorists who plotted the murder.

Refugees Tell of Expulsion.

At Szeged, the refugees, exhausted and dejected, told stories of hardship. Some were barefoot, some coatless; others were sick. From some came tales of severe treatment by Yugoslav soldiers. Many said they were evicted without warning and given no time to gather their baggage and household effects or withdraw deposits from the banks. Most of them carried their few possessions wrapped in bandanas at the end of sticks.

Many said they had lived in Yugoslavia 30 and 40 years and had not forgotten their native tongue. So far 1400 of the deportees have plodded across the border. As many more were expected tomorrow. Among today's arrivals were two 6-year-old women leading their 86-year-old blind father. A 4-year-old, barefoot girl had lost both her parents in the exodus. A young mother arrived with a child to which she gave birth along the route.

There were many accounts of refugees being forced to depart in boats without heat, food or water. Others, less fortunate, said they were compelled to go on foot.

Among the refugees arriving was a 72-year-old Hungarian mother whose son is serving in the Yugoslav army. Another woman said she was forced to leave her 83-year-old mother while the latter was receiving the last sacrament for the dying. One aged man was seen carrying his crippled wife on his back.

Croatians and Bavarians.

The refugees included numbers of Croatians and Bavarians whose families have lived in Yugoslavia for 200 years.

Several hundred of the refugees have reached Budapest and the excitement here is intense.

In addition to the two Government representatives at Szeged, another commission is to be sent there to-night.

Police have been mobilized to pre-

ROOSEVELT TO SUBMIT HUGE WORK RELIEF PLAN

Other Legislation Involves Budget and Job Insurance—Short Session of Congress Favored.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—President Roosevelt returned to the White House today, refreshed after three weeks of study and play in the Southland.

He is prepared to submit to the new Congress a program for an immediate new and gigantic work relief program to tide over the unemployment period.

He will put the legislative program into black and white during the next three weeks in which several conferences between the President and Congressional leaders are likely to be held.

Aside from the proposed new work plan the administration appears to be confining the legislation largely to the unemployment insurance and budget issues. A short session is planned.

The principal aids of Mr. Roosevelt who were with him during the last few days of study and discussion at Warm Springs, Ga., accompanied him home, including Secretaries Morgenthau and Ickes, Harry L. Hopkins, Relief Administrator; Rexford G. Tugwell, Under Secretary of Agriculture, and Frank C. Walker of New York, former director of the Emergency Council.

James Roosevelt, eldest son of the President, and his wife, Betsy, were also on the train.

James Roosevelt, eldest son of the President, and his wife, Betsy, were also on the train.

Routed by the tear gas, the demonstrators marched four and five abreast to the City Hall, jeering at crews of passing street cars. A committee called to see the Mayor, but he was reported out.

The injured young women were not demonstrators. Miss Dorris Rischis, 29 years old, was treated for shock; after a tear gas bomb fell at her feet. Miss Clara Rosenwein, 23, a teacher, suffered a sprained ankle fleeing from the scene.

A man police said was James Thornton, 58, motorman, appeared in the middle of the street with a United States flag. Two officers arrested him on suspicion of conspiracy to incite a riot. The crowd closed in and knocked down the policemen down. Other police rushed to the scene and brought tear gas to bear. Fourteen other strikers were arrested on peace disturbance charges.

NEW YORK MAYOR SIGNS $58,000,000 RELIEF BILLS

Northern Mississippi Towns to Petition the President.

By the Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 6.—Mayor Milton C. Smith of Greenville, Miss., said by telephone today that 21 North Mississippi cities have joined a movement to organize and request Tennessee Valley authority power.

Mayor Smith said he would call Mayors of all North Mississippi towns and cities into conference within 10 days or two weeks to draft a unified petition to the TVA and President Roosevelt. He said he had written about 40 cities between Greenville and Tupelo and Memphis, to get their sentiments.

Tax on Sales, Utilities and Inheritance; $15,000,000 Loan at 1% Per Cent Arranged.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Mayor LaGuardia signed tax bills designed to raise $58,000,000 for unemployment relief yesterday.

The measures provide for a tax on sales, utilities and inheritances. Objections were made by civic and business representatives.

Shortly after the signing, Comptroller Joseph D. McDonald announced he had negotiated a $15,000,000 relief loan at an interest rate of 1% per cent, or 1 per cent lower than the city is paying on emergency relief loans obtained during the last seven months.

Anti-Ickes Meeting in Texas

Ouster of Oil Code Administrator Urged by Speakers.

By the Associated Press.

KILGORE, Tex., Dec. 6.—Removal of Secretary Ickes as oil administrator was urged by speakers at a mass meeting attended by approximately 1000 persons here last night.

Sam Goldman, Kilgore merchant, who presided, urged all persons present to send telegrams to President Roosevelt asking for Ickes' dismissal.

"President Roosevelt should be ashamed to have a man in his Cabinet that would close down the industry and throw 5000 men out of work when the Government is spending millions to feed the unemployed," State Senator Joe Moore of Greenville told the gathering.

A resolution said: "Resolved, to demand the resignation of Secretary Ickes because of his action, due to inexperience and unfamiliarity with the oil business in East Texas or wilful design to suppress and destroy the independent refiners in this area."

COL. DREYFUS IS 'VERY TIRED'

Disease Denied; Something Better Recent Operation.

PARIS, Dec. 6.—Col. Alfred Dreyfus, principal of the celebrated "Dreyfus case," was said today to be "very tired," but otherwise somewhat improved from an operation of two months ago. Reports that he was seriously ill at his country home in Brittany was denied.

The former French Army officer, now 75 years old, has been ill for several years and is almost blind. His age and condition caused anxiety.

RELIEF CONTROVERSY IN JAPAN

Dominant Party Opposed to Proposed $60,000,000 Fund.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Dec. 6.—A controversy has grown out of the attempt of the Selyukul, the Dominant Party, to impede approval by the Diet of a relief budget calling for expenditure of 209,000,000 yen (approximately $60,000,000).

Political authorities do not regard the dissension as of sufficient consequence to endanger the cabinet, although the Government might dissolve the Diet and call a general election unless the Selyukul changes its position.

The proposed fund would be expended over a three-year period to take care of victims of natural disasters. Last summer and fall, including the typhoon which swept through Central Japan Sept. 21, taking 2500 lives.

LOSS $10,000 in Diamonds.

By the Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 6.—Private detectives today were investigating the loss of $10,000 in diamonds by Mrs. Rose Lonsen of Chicago, mother-in-law of Earl Katz of Kansas City. Mrs. Lonsen, who was carrying the diamonds in a small cloth bag in her purse, missed the purse soon after motoring her yesterday from Kansas City. She had stopped at Clarinda, Ia., en route for gasoline. The purse was found in Clarinda but it had been emptied.

Capt. Hancock Learns She Drove Away, Without Supplies, Three Who Perished Later.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6.—Discovery of four instead of two deaths in the lonely Galapagos Islands, and confirmation of the strange disappearance of the island "empress," was announced in radio messages received today from the party of Smithsonian scientists.

Capt. G. Allan Hancock, master-owner of the exploration cruiser Velero III, found the maze of mystery, tragedy and adventure when his party landed on the old convict Isle of Charles, 500 miles off the coast of Ecuador.

Routed by the tear gas, the demonstrators marched four and five abreast to the City Hall, jeering at crews of passing street cars. A committee called to see the Mayor, but he was reported out.

The injured young women were not demonstrators. Miss Dorris Rischis, 29 years old, was treated for shock; after a tear gas bomb fell at her feet. Miss Clara Rosenwein, 23, a teacher, suffered a sprained ankle fleeing from the scene.

HUNDREDS ROUTED IN $100,000 SAN FRANCISCO HOTEL FIRE

Five Alarms Turned in Before Blaze in 15-Story St. Francis Is Controlled.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—A five-alarm fire routed hundreds of guests from their beds in the St. Francis Hotel about 6 a. m. today before firemen brought the blaze under control half an hour after it broke out.

For years heretofore the Republican campaign fund generally has exceeded the Democratic in St. Louis, but with the ascendancy of the Democrats since 1932 the situation has been reversed. A notable reason for the chance has been the switch in politics of public employees. The party in power always has obtained large "voluntary contributions" from those on the public payroll.

$36,000 From Employees.

About $36,000 was received by the Democrats this year from city, State and Federal employees in St. Louis, Cantwell said. Details of individual contributors were $70,186.66 and expenditures were $31,505.92. It was shown in a report of John J. Nangle, treasurer, filed with the Recorder of Deeds today. The committee ended its successful State campaign with a balance of $31,212.74 in banks. The Republican State Committee collected $17,022 and spent $16,806, finishing with a balance of $216.

CLARK IN CLASH WITH DU PONT ON U.S. PART IN WAR

EFFORT FOR SALES IN CHINA SHOWN

Correspondence in Evidence Shows Arms Makers 'Got Busy' in Effort to Stop Chaco Embargo.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON,
Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—A heated exchange between Senator Clark of Missouri and Irene du Pont of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co., over the cause of America's entrance into the World War, marked the resumption of the Senate munitions inquiry today. Clark ordered du Pont to sit down and be quiet.

While Senator Clark was reading documentary evidence bearing on du Pont sales of powder to China, Irene du Pont remarked that Clark must have found powder "valuable during the World War." Clark, who was a Colonel in the A. E. F., retorted that he considered the war "an appalling destruction of all values."

"Perhaps, in its final consequences, but it was necessary," du Pont said.

"It was necessary to protect and prolong the profits of the munitions makers," Clark retorted.

"Surely you don't mean to say that President Wilson declared war to make profits for the munitions makers?"

"Certainly not, but I do mean to say that it was our policy of insistence on selling munitions to the Allies which caused us to be drawn into the war."

You Are Not in Charge.

Du Pont, who frequently interrupted the testimony of other witnesses with objections to the form of the questions, jumped up and started to reply, when Clark stopped him, and said: "This is no place for an argument which has no connection with this inquiry, and furthermore, Mr. du Pont, I am finally constrained, as gently and tactfully as possible, to disabuse your mind of the impression that you are in charge of this investigation. We shall proceed in the regular manner."

Clark introduced a document showing that George Sokolsky, former China correspondent of the New York Times, had sent a cable in code to T. V. Soong, Chinese Minister of Finance, inquiring whether the Chinese Government could use a large quantity of rifle cartridges. F. J. Monaghan, export manager of the Remington Co., said Sokolsky sent a personal message to him.

"I am investigating to note," said Clark, "that Mr. Sokolsky is now touring the country delivering a series of speeches on the necessity for heavier armaments."

Monaghan said that Sokolsky had never received any compensation from the Remington company.

At one stage Clark remarked that, notwithstanding all the evidence showing violation and attempted violations of the international embargo on arms shipments to China, "the United States can be proud of its own munitions makers, compared to those of other countries." His manner didn't indicate that he was thinking to compliment anyone.

Imperial Chemical.

It has been shown through earlier testimony that the du Pont company has a working agreement with the British firm of Imperial Chemical Industries. Alluding to this Senator Clark asked Irene du Pont, "Isn't it a fact that two eminent Englishmen, who recently criticized the activities of this committee before the House of Commons are large stockholders in Imperial Chemical?"

"Who do you mean?" du Pont asked. "I mean Sir John Simon, the Foreign Minister and Sir Austen Chamberlain." Du Pont said he didn't know whether they are stockholders.

Monaghan testified that the Remington company has sold 4,000,000 cartridges to Bolivia and 100,000 to Paraguay during the Chaco war. Winchester was shown to have sold 2,500,000 to Bolivia. The evidence indicated that most of Paraguay's supplies have been bought from Imperial Chemical Industries.

E. K. Davis, president of the Remington company, when asked to state the company's policy on Imperial Chemical?

Specific bequests are as follows: $1000 to Mrs. Alice May Ross, Hartford street, with whomkins boarded; $500 to Mary Dunning of Minneapolis, and his sister, Mrs. Henrietta Taney of Southampton, England.

In addition he bequeathed a snuff box which his grandfather received as a gift in his sister-in-law, Mrs. Maude Atkins, also of Southampton, who died on Nov. 30, employed by the Terminal Railroad Association for the last 40 years as superintendent of the up-landway of Eads Bridge.

STATION MEN THREATEN TO TURN IN BLUE EAGLES

Louis Association Protests to Roosevelt Against Cut in Commissions.

Associated filling station operators, in messages to the President and to the NRA Administration yesterday, threatened to turn in their Blue Eagles because they cannot operate at NRA yards under reduced commissions, which became effective last day.

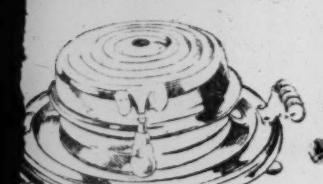

On Dec. 1 the operator's margin was 3 cents a gallon on third grade gasoline and 4 cents a gallon other grades. The margin was 1 cent on all grades and was swayed by an increase of 2 cents a gallon in the retail price yesterday.

The effect, the filling station point out, is a 3-cent a gallon cut to the major companies.

Messages to President Roosevelt, NRA Administrator Ickes, NRA Administrator Richberg and Congressman Cochran, read: "When we can members of the Independent Filling Stations' Association collectively surrender their Blue Eagles and be absolved from compliance with provisions of the National Recovery Act? Impossible to continue operations in view of a 1 cent margin cut on gasoline."

Bert Schlesinger, president of association, which has more than 400 members, said the station operators contend that, if the Government can control hours and wages, it should also establish a minimum commission margin.

SECOND YOUTH SOUGHT IN TULSA STUDENT'S DEATH

Member of Prominent Family Wanted as Accessory in Killing, Which Judge's Son Admits.

PHILIP KENNAMER NAMED IN HOLDUP

Wagoner, Ok., Pair Identify Prisoner as One of Five Young Men Who Robbed Them.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

TULSA, Ok., Dec. 6.—The arrest of a son of another prominent Tulsa family as an accessory in the killing of John F. Gorrell Jr., physician's son, for which Philip Kennamer, 19-year-old black sheep of the family of a Federal Judge is held, was predicted today by City Criminologist Maddux on his return from Kansas City where he said he obtained the necessary evidence.

Maddux also announced that he would bring to Tulsa for safe keeping Richard Oliver and Jesse Harris, prominent and fellow students of Gorrell at a Kansas City dental college, because they were afraid to stay in Kansas City.

It was Oliver, whose home is in Tulsa, who came here last Saturday, after his roommate had been found shot to death Thanksgiving night, and told authorities that Gorrell had told him before going to Tulsa for the holiday that he feared Kennamer would kill him. Harris is from Wilburton, Ok.

Kennamer Named in Robbery.

Meanwhile, County Attorney Holmes was continuing his investigation of the recent activities and associates of Kennamer, who had admitted killing his former friend, four years his senior, but has refused to discuss the case, saying he fired two shots in self defense from a revolver which Gorrell had borrowed and which was found beside the body.

The first fruits of the investigation of a maze of fantastic rumors which pictured Kennamer as the leader of a youthful gang of sons of prominent Tulsa families involved in every offense from shooting traps to smuggling Chinese from Mexico, were produced yesterday when Kennamer was identified by a Wagoner roadhouse proprietor and his wife as the leader of a group of five young men who held them up the night before Gorrell was killed.

The hold-up victims, Mr. and Mrs. Basil James, were brought here by Sheriff Clay Flowers of Wagoner County, who placed a bold order for Kennamer. James and his wife were positive in their identification of the prisoner as one of the youths who pointed a pistol at them, took two automatic pistols, a shotgun and $85, and bound and gagged them.

Prisoner Denies Part's Charge.
Kennamer, with his never-failing self-possession, denied participation in the robbery and declared with a show of resentment, "I am not an associate of hijackers." He declined to state where he was at the time and repeated his stock reply, "You can talk to my lawyer about anything else."

But it is rumors of alleged attempted extortion that most greatly interest the County Prosecutor. The opinion persists that the clew of the murder motive is to be found in a plot to extort $20,000 from Homer F. Wilson, wealthy Tulsa oil man and father of Miss Virginia Wilcox, for whom Kennamer had an infatuation.

After talking to police shortly after Kennamer surrendered last Saturday, the Wilcox family, including H. F. Wilcox Jr., 17, an associate of Kennamer, left Tulsa for what Wilcox described as a shopping trip to New York. They will return here Sunday and will be questioned again.

Story Back of Extortion Note.
During an automobile trip to Tulsa a week before the murder, Fred J. Huff, Kansas City editor and poet, Kennamer while drinking heavily, threatened to kill Gorrell and exhibited an extortion note addressed to Wilcox and threatening his family. The letter was never mailed and Wilcox said he had received no threats.

The letter, it was learned by the Post-Dispatch, is in the possession of defense counsel as evidence to be used to picture its picture of Kennamer as an irresponsible, romantic young man who sought to protect the girl from harm at the hands of unscrupulous associates. In protesting with the plotter, the defense will contend, unless subsequent developments contra-indicate it, Kennamer killed Gorrell to save his own life.

Temporary insanity also will be one of the defense bulwarks when the case goes to trial next March. No alienists have made examinations yet but both State and defense have conferred with specialists. Kennamer, although local high school records show he has an intelligence quotient of 120, has been derided by his teachers to have been incapable or unwilling to apply himself.

He preferred to read sensational fiction. At New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, he obtained six high school credits. Returning to Tulsa in 1931, he attended Central School for parts of two terms, then being in turn to a Durant (Ok.)

A Winter Attraction at the Zoo

ADY, one of the chimpanzees at the Zoo, walking the tight-rope blindfolded. In addition, she can walk the rope backward without the blindfold and can balance on a chair on the rope.

Zoo Chimpanzees, Sammy And Billy, Take Vacation

Amateur Performers, Jackie, Lady, Percy and Krool, Are Billed for Monkey House Stage During Winter.

Forest Park Zoo is now in winter quarters. Outdoor exhibits that cannot stand the cold have been stowed away in shelter. Some of the more popular indoor exhibits are being given annual vacations.

For instance, Sammy and Billy, talented chimpanzees, no longer go through their complicated bag of tricks each day. Instead, they remain in their cage, and the chimpanzee kindergarten, an outdoor exhibit when the weather was warm, occupies the stage in the Monkey House.

Zoo Director Vierheller says their vacation is really necessary lest Sammy become punch-drunk. Part of their act is a boxing match which Billy always wins. On crowded days Sammy may be "knocked out" six or seven times.

The New Performers.

And so the stage is left clear for Jackie, Lady, Percy and Krool, the chimpanzee youngsters who are learning an act that may, in time, rival that of Sammy and Billy. Jackie is learning to walk on stilts and turn back somersaults in the air. Lady, the tight-rope performer, can walk the rope backwards now, can do it frontwards with a blindfold and can balance on a chair on the rope. Percy and Krool, the smallest ones, don't do much yet, but before the winter is over, they'll be performers, too.

In the old wooden Ostrich House, Mike Kostial, trainer of the baby birds in last summer's performance, is working on a new act for next year with three half-grown lions and a pair of leopards.

At the Reptile House, despite a constantly-maintained temperature of 72 to 74 degrees, many of the high school, the San Angelo (Tex.) high school and to Cascia Hall, a private school here.

To friends in conversation he gave vent to high imagination, speaking of joining revolutions in Cuba and South America. Once his father, Judge Franklin E. Kennamer, implacable enemy of law violators, found through Federal authorities that the boy was ready to embark on a freightboat from Galveston.

Typical of his reckless escapades was his breath-taking performance before a group of youthful admirers at a dance on the roof of a 16-story Tulsa hotel last spring. Lowering himself to a narrow ledge and clinging precariously to projections which offered a fingerhold, he crept around the outside of the building.

Inquiry Into Gambling Debts.

His willingness to "shoot the works" in dice games in which he was frequent participant, offers another phase of inquiry under way. Wade Thomas, proprietor of the Idle Hour sandwich shop, frequented by wealthy Tulsa youths and opened after another resort he conducted had been closed by injunction as a public nuisance, has been held since Sunday.

Losses in gambling games at Thomas' resort, authorities believe, may provide evidence that Kennamer's penchant for gambling required larger funds than he was able to obtain regularly and induced him to enter unlawful enterprises with which rumor connects him. Kennamer was said to owe Thomas $50 and inquiry into other gambling debts is being made.

In his comfortable quarters in the matron's room at the Tulsa County jail, Kennamer was growing restive and expressed a wish that he might go to trial at once. However, his attorney, Flint Moss, stated that March was the earliest trial date obtainable. Charged with first-degree murder, punishable by death in the electric chair or life imprisonment, Kennamer cannot be admitted to Children's Hospital.

He preferred to read sensational fiction. At New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, he obtained six high school credits. Returning to Tulsa in 1931, he attended Central School for parts of two terms, then being in turn to a Durant (Ok.)

SEARCH GOES ON, NO TRACE YET OF PACIFIC FLYERS

Seaplanes and Navy Surface Craft Cover Large Areas in Vicinity of Hawaiian Islands.

By the Associated Press.

HONOLULU, Dec. 6.—Naval searchers today continued their hunt for Flight Lieutenant Charles T. P. Ulm of Australia and two companions, missing since Tuesday, when lack of fuel forced their Trans-Pacific monoplane into the ocean.

Pilots of 12 navy seaplanes plotted courses over 200,000 square miles of the Pacific which has been covered in the last two days. Surface craft played searchlights across the water throughout the night.

Chances decreased, however, as the hours piled up past the time it was thought the Star of Australia could remain aloft with Ulm, Co-Pilot George Littlejohn and Navigator J. L. Skilling. Their land plane carried no life-saving equipment.

The airmen were bound here from Oakland, Cal., on the first leg of a flight to Australia, which they hoped would chart the course of a commercial air line.

To Search North of Oahu.

Based on calculations on winds and tides and recalling the experience of Commander John Rodgers in 1925, searching forces intended to survey the ocean to the north of Oahu Island, on which Honolulu is situated.

In 1925, Rodgers and his crew drifted for nine days in a seaplane when forced down on the way here from the mainland. They finally were found northeast of Maui, northernmost Hawaiian island, where the search for Ulm was concentrated today.

Ulm flashed an SOS early Tuesday saying he would land in the ocean, but he was off his course and did not know his position.

Average flying conditions with good visibility and calm seas were forecast today by Lieut. E. W. Stephens, naval meteorologist. Returning pilots last night reported frequent showers to the north and poor visibility.

Kingsford-Smith's Theory.

Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australian flyer, who twice has flown between here and the mainland, expressed the opinion his countrymen were in the area north of here.

"We probably will send 12 planes out today," Commander E. W. Tod, director of the naval searchers, said. "We are wearing out our men pretty rapidly. Some of them spent 11 hours in the air yesterday and almost as much Tuesday."

Even if Ulm is not heard from for several days there is a faint possibility he and his companions might have been rescued by a Japanese fishing boat. These craft remain at sea as long as three weeks.

Ulm predicted his plane would float for 10 days if forced into the sea.

In most of the bear pits there is no sign of winter noticeable yet. Later some of the bears will hibernate and the rest will eat only about a fourth of their regular ration. But at the polar bear pit, the sign is unmistakable. Shorty, the smallest of the polar, has quit digging. As soon as the weather becomes bitterly cold, he will resume his plunges into the pool, breaking the ice before he goes in each morning.

It virtually impossible to obtain a change of venue. He expressed willingness to go to trial in Tulsa County, pointing out that removal of the case to an adjoining county would hardly prove advantageous to the defense. Moss stated he would present no evidence at the preliminary hearing set for Dec. 17.

Although frequently conferring with Moss and other defense attorneys, Judge Franklin has not visited his son since he accompanied him to the jail for surrender last Saturday.

SUSPECTED OF COUNTERFEITING

Three men held after offering worthless half dollars.

Three men were arrested yesterday on suspicion of counterfeiting. Two were identified by a waitress as the men who recently offered her a worthless half dollar in payment for two glasses of beer, and a news dealer identified one as a man who had offered him a spurious half dollar for two newspapers.

The counterfeit coins were detected at the time of each transaction. The men protested that they had not known the coins were counterfeit. So far as police know the two who bought the beer and the man who bought the newspapers are not associates.

Baby Burned When Comb Ignites.

Roy Finocharo Jr., 20 months old, was burned on the face and hands when he thrust a celluloid comb into the flame of a gas stove at his home, 5257 Wilson avenue, yesterday afternoon. He was treated at Children's Hospital.

In his comfortable quarters in the matron's room at the Tulsa County jail, Kennamer was growing restive and expressed a wish that he might go to trial at once. However, his attorney, Flint Moss, stated that March was the earliest trial date obtainable. Charged with first-degree murder, punishable by death in the electric chair or life imprisonment, Kennamer cannot be admitted to Children's Hospital.

He preferred to read sensational fiction. At New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, he obtained six high school credits. Returning to Tulsa in 1931, he attended Central School for parts of two terms, then being in turn to a Durant (Ok.)

MAYOR RENEWS APPEAL TO CITY IN RELIEF DRIVE

Makes Plea "for Underprivileged"—Only $19,526 Reported First Day of Extended Campaign.

Although the supplementary United Relief Campaign for $500,000 directed by Mayor Dickmann got off to a poor start yesterday when pledges of only $19,526 were turned in at the first report meeting, Dickmann reiterated his statement that the campaign would not close until the money is raised.

In a radio talk last night he spoke of the first reports as "disheartening," but added, "I am warning the people of St. Louis that we are not going to let up on this drive. We are hopeful that with the fine spirit manifested by our citizens in the past we will be able to close this campaign on Friday, but we are not going to let up until this fund is in."

The supplementary campaign was undertaken when it became apparent, at the close of the original United Relief Campaign a week ago, that subscriptions would fall below $500,000 short of the $2,700,000 goal.

Long Way From $500,000.

Thanking the 500 solicitors at yesterday's report meeting at Hotel Statler, the Mayor reminded them that $20,000 is still a long way from $500,000." He said he realized that they had had only one full day, Tuesday, in which to conduct their canvass, and said he hoped at least $20,000 would be in hand for tomorrow's report meeting.

Dickmann suggested that contributions be sent to his office at the City Hall, or to United Relief headquarters at Hotel Statler. Among the checks received at his office, he said, was one for $500, and two for $250 each. Also in his mail yesterday were three checks for two cents each, contributed by a school boy who had received them as a partial payment of his school fees. The boy, according to Dickmann, included a note suggesting that perhaps many would be willing to contribute such checks.

In his radio address last night the Mayor told of organizing 500 solicitors, chosen from among United Relief campaign workers and city employees, to conduct the supplementary campaign, chiefly among about 10,000 persons whose original contributions were thought by managers of the campaign to be less than the donors could afford to contribute. The $19,526 reported yesterday, he said, represented the additional gifts of about 1200 of the 10,000.

PIEZA FOR UNDER-PRIVILEGED.

"I am pleading for underprivileged children, for the sick, the aged and infirm of this community. I do not want a single one of them to feel that he is unpreserved for as a result of my failure to do my full duty."

CHAIN STORES' TAX INJUNCTION PERMANENT

Judge's Order Bars City From Collecting Levy of $25 to $250 on Each Establishment.

A permanent injunction, restraining the city from enforcing an ordinance providing for the levying of extra license taxes against chain stores, was granted by Circuit Judge Calhoun yesterday.

The ordinance, adopted in 1932, but which has not been enforced because of a temporary retaining order, would have imposed a tax of $25 to $250 a year against each store of chain corporations, depending on the size of the chain.

In overruling the city's demurrer to the injunction order, Judge Calhoun recently held that the ordinance was "unreasonable, oppressive and confiscatory."

It was said the city probably would appeal to the Missouri Supreme Court. The injunction suit was filed by various chain store firms.

WINNERS IN BABY BEAUTY CONTEST AT ST. CHARLES
Carol Jean Haynes, Ivan Joe Wolff and Lois Boschert Awarded Prizes.

Winners of the various classes in the Baby Beauty Contest, the feature of the opening of a four-day Merchants' Christmas Exposition, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars at St. Charles, were announced last night. All were St. Charles children.

First prize in the year-old group was won by Carol Jean Haynes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frazier C. Haynes, 625 Lewis street. Ivan Joe Wolff, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Wolff, 975 North Kingshighway, was awarded first place in the second class, and Lois Boschert, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Boschert, 1125 North Third street, won in the older class. The exposition will close Saturday evening with a public wedding.

THREE OLD BRICK RESIDENCES BEING RAZED TO SAVE TAXES

Total Levy on Buildings on Lawton Avenue $117 a Year; No Plans for Site.

Three old-fashioned brick residences at 2835-39 Lawton boulevard are being torn down by their owner to save $117 a year in taxes.

The buildings, of two and three stories, fronting 63 feet on Lawton at the northeast corner of Lawton and Ewing avenue, are owned by Mrs. W. H. Hanson, 6501 San Bonita avenue, Clayton. They were built in the late 1870's by the late Gerard B. Allen, St. Louis foundry owner and civic leader, for rental purposes.

They have been vacant much of the time recently. There are no plans for the site.

PLEADS GUILTY AFTER JURY IS SELECTED; GETS 10 YEARS

Frank Hansen, 19, Admits Stealing Cash and Auto; Sentenced Under Henry Law.

Frank Hansen, 19 years old, 4100 Delmar boulevard, was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary by Circuit Judge Baron yesterday when he pleaded guilty of robbery under the Henry Law, after a jury had been selected.

He admitted stealing $93 and an automobile from William Turner, a restaurant manager, at Grand and Delmar boulevards last May 29. At the time Hansen was on parole from the Booneville Reformatory, where he served part of a term for robbery.

FINED $100 IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Veterans' Hospital Resident Accused of Careless Driving.

Theodore Wyland, who lives at Veterans' Hospital, Jefferson Barracks, was fined $100 by Police Judge Finnegan yesterday on a charge of careless driving.

Mrs. Pauline Hartnack, 1807 North Eleventh street, testified she was standing in a safety zone at Twelfth and Soulard streets on Oct. 12 when Wyland's automobile struck her. Wyland and a woman companion said Mrs. Hartnack stepped from the zone into the side of his car.

TOKIO, Dec. 6.—Japanese naval authorities detained the English freighter Langleebrook, under Soviet Government charter, today because it entered port in the Pescadores Islands, near the Mako naval base, a Rengo (Japanese) News Agency dispatch said. The dispatch, from Tahoku, Isle of Formosa, said the vessel's captain, Tom Brown, said he was taking refuge from a storm. The Langleebrook is carrying grain from Odessa to Vladivostok.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH*FURTHER EVIDENCE IN DEATH OF EX-HEAD OF INSURANCE FIRM

Officers Find Spot Where They Think He Fired Shot Into Auto to Simulate Murder.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 6.—H. B. Hill's will was filed in Probate Court yesterday and local officials reported further evidence to trace his activities Saturday afternoon before his body was found, an apparent suicide.

The former president of the Abraham Lincoln Life Insurance Co. left most of his estate in trust for his family, but an inventory was not filed. It is understood to have had $135,000 in insurance. Deputy Sheriff William Nattermann found the isolated roadside where Hill is thought by officials to have fired several bullets into his automobile to give the appearance that he had been murdered.

Both principals gave their ages as 29 and Miss Lee identified herself as Lila Kirkwood. She is the former wife of James Kirkwood, stage and screen star and director. Pine is the son of A. G. Pine, a well-to-do Chicago clothing manufacturer. She intends to continue in pictures.

Pine's first marriage to Winifred Wilson, movie actress, ended two years ago in divorce.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH*PROTEST ON PLAN TO DUMP CITY'S GARBAGE IN RIVER

American Game Association Attacks Method on Ground It Would Harm Aquatic Life.

Experts Say Discharge Would Destroy All Fish for at Least 190 Miles Below St. Louis.

A protest against the city's recently announced plan to grind up garbage and discharge it into the Mississippi River through sewers has been made by the American Game Association in letters to St. Louis newspapers, quoting the Bureau of Fisheries as having reported that the method would be harmful to aquatic life.

Writing from Washington to the Post-Dispatch, Seth Gordon, president of the association, said:

"Surely your city fathers cannot be serious about the suggestion that 600 tons of additional filth be dumped daily into the Mississippi River through the sewers to save the expense of civilized disposal of such waste."

Approval by War Department.

In a recent report on the plan, for which the Board of Estimate and Apportionment has approved an appropriation of about $60,000, Director of Streets and Sewers McDevitt stated he had obtained for the plan the approval of the War Department, which has jurisdiction over navigable streams.

This approval was given by Capt. B. M. Harloe, district engineer at St. Louis, on the condition that there be no interference with navigation. The Bureau of Fisheries study, it was learned, was made at the request of the War Department, and the report had been submitted to the department when its letter of approval was sent to McDevitt.

Director McDevitt said he had received a copy of the Bureau of Fisheries report and was having a study of it made by his own engineers. It was his opinion, based on experiments and his own study of the methods that no harm would result to fish life in the streams.

Protest by Game Association.

Gordon's letter of protest said: "U. S. Bureau of Fisheries experts, who have made a careful study, report that this added burden of filth will destroy all aquatic life for at least 190 miles below St. Louis. Instead of further destroying the public waters which flow by the front door of St. Louis, your city should install a modern sewage treatment plant to eliminate the rotten mess which is already being dumped into the Father of Waters. Other progressive cities with civic pride are doing just this."

"If St. Louis stoops to this proposal it will seriously hinder and delay the movement for clean streams throughout the land."

Director McDevitt's Report.

In his report on the garbage situation, Director McDevitt told of the operation of an experimental grinding plant with capacity of 100 tons daily, discharging its product into the Vandeventer sewer. He said:

"Many samples of sewage were taken at different points, including the sewer outlet. Leaving the grinder, the particles were finely ground up and after a few blocks of travel in the sewers they were hardly noticeable. No evidence whatever of garbage was visible at the sewer outlet. (Two miles away.)

"Before spending any additional money it was considered advisable to have an investigation and tests made by the War Department who have charge of all navigable streams. While the River and Harbor Act specifically exempts the discharge from sewers, it was better to have a check made on the possibility of stream pollution. These tests were made recently and permission was granted the city to adopt this method of garbage disposal."

Suit Over Present Disposal.

The grinding method was proposed by McDevitt to replace the present method of disposal of garbage by shipping it down the river barges to hog farms under a contract which expires next February. Residents of the vicinity of the hog farms have brought legal action, which is pending, to enjoin the city for thus disposing of its garbage. In recommending the grinding method McDevitt stated it was much cheaper, both in initial outlay for plant and in operation than incineration or reduction to animal feed or fertilizer.

He estimated that total cost of plants having maximum capacity of 600 tons a day would not exceed $65,000 and that cost of operation would be no more than the present cost of 34 cents a ton for shipment of the garbage down the river. He estimated $80,000 to $100,000 a year would be saved in cost of collection, because of shorter hauling distances.

McDevitt's report stated that in winter garbage collections average 100 to 150 tons a day, but in summer may go as high as 400 to 500 tons a day.

One Leppert-Roos coat equals one and one-half ordinary coats. Why? Thin and weak portions of skins are not used in Leppert-Roos coats. Skins are not overstretched. Sewing is carefully watched to allow wide, safe seams to prevent ripping. A wide lap is allowed to prevent buckling while sitting down. Only Grade A, peak prime peltries are used.

These things, of course, require extra peltries, added expense and additional manufacturing effort. That is why a Leppert-Roos coat is equal in value to one and one-half ordinary fur coats, why the models shown here are actually worth considerably more than the prices indicate. Note: Every coat listed has been specially reduced, so the values are even greater than ordinary.

WOMAN KILLED, BODY IN TRUNK AT LOS ANGELES

Husband Being Sought in Murder of Wife, Whose Legs Were Cut Off at the Knees.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6.—Search was begun today for John H. Happel, wanted for questioning in connection with the killing of his wife, Mrs. Rosabella Happel, whose dismembered body was found yesterday in a trunk in the corner of a windowless shack.

County autopsy surgeons announced today that the 46-year-old woman was beheaded, beaten from three days to a week ago. The body, which had been dismembered at the knees, was identified by Fred Happel, son of the missing 58-year-old man, and John Corrigan, a friend of the family.

Police said Fred Happel informed them his father and stepmother had quarreled at times over money. Happel, the son said, complained that his wife was niggardly in giving him money for tobacco and small wants and frequently accused her of having broken her promise to purchase a farm at St. James, Mo., to which they could retire.

Fred Happel said his father was not capable of the crime because he was a semi-invalid.

FINDING OF BODY.

Summoned by tenants, A. G. Wyatt, owner of the building, found the Happel apartment in a state of confusion. Pictures were ripped from their frames; letters, torn to bits, were on the floors, and blood stains covered the walls of the bedroom. Police broke into the securely locked shack and found the body.

Among addresses on letters found were A. Driemeier, 3613 North Twentieth street, St. Louis, and an unidentified address, given merely as 1961 Adelaide.

A marriage license showed Happel, born in Missouri, married Rosa-

85 TO GET WORK REORGANIZING COUNTY ASSESSING SYSTEM

Under State Committee's Professional Program; 50 on Job Before.

Eighty-five draftsmen and clerks will be put to work on the reorganization of the property assessing system in St. Louis County under the State Relief Committee's Professional Works Program, Assessor Martin L. Neaf announced today.

Fifty of the men were employed in Neaf's office doing the same work under the FERA, but lost their jobs Nov. 30 when funds were discontinued. The pay scale will be 85 cents an hour for senior draftsmen and 63 cents for junior draftsmen and clerks.

MAN KILLED; NEIGHBOR HELD

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 6.—John Mack Clinton, 60 years old, of Linn, Mo., died in St. Mary's Hospital here last night of a shotgun wound in his head.

Joe Crow, a neighbor, was in Osage County jail at Linn awaiting filing of charges. Mrs. John Schmitz was slightly wounded in the hip by a shotgun charge. Clinton resided with Mrs. Schmitz and her husband. Sheriff John J. Otto of Osage County quoted Crow as saying, "I shot him," but refusing to tell why.

which prevented him from doing anything but occasional work.

Check Made in Louis of Possibility Murder Clews.

At the A. Driemeter Storage & Moving Co., 3615 North Twentieth street, it was said that a John Happel of Los Angeles had sent some things to the company for storage two or three years ago when he said he was coming to St. Louis to live. The articles still are stored here.

The residence at 1961 Adelaide avenue is occupied by Mrs. Louise Alexander, from Michigan, in Los Angeles, Sept. 13, 1917. Friends said each had a married child by a former marriage living in St. Louis. Happel a son and Mrs. Happel a daughter.

WOMAN MISSING SINCE NOV. 27.

Police said friends and neighbors told them Mrs. Happel had not been seen since Nov. 27 and Happel since last Saturday night. Corrigan told police Happel, who had been caring for Corrigan's 3-year-old daughter, returned her a week ago with the explanation that he and his wife were unable to keep her longer.

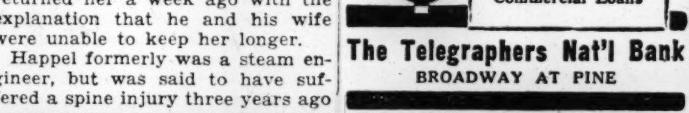

Happel formerly was a steam engineer, but was said to have suffered a spine injury three years ago

RICHETTI PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO KANSAS CITY CHARGES Alleged Plotter in Union Station Killings Is Held Under $20,000 Bond.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 6.—Adam Richetti, Southwestern desperado, pleaded not guilty yesterday to charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice and of transporting a stolen automobile.

The conspiracy charge was based on an accusation of Federal agents and police that Richetti participated in the killing of five men at the Union Station here June 17, 1933.

The other charge was based on a report that Richetti and the late Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd used a stolen car in the abduction of Sheriff Jack Killingsworth of Bolivar, Mo.

Richetti was held under $20,000 bond.

ADMITS KILLING GIRL

AND GETS LIFE TERM

Former Convict Sentenced Day After Body of Michigan Child Is Found.

By the Associated Press.
LANSING, Mich., Dec. 6.—Leroy Carson, 22 years old, a former reformatory inmate, pleaded guilty today to a murder charge for the killing of 12-year-old Leona Georgia Love, and was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Michigan Branch Prison at Marquette.

Within less than 24 hours after the child's body was found stuffed into a culvert along the route she took to her rural school, near here, Carson had made several confessions. His last statement, announced by Detective Sergeant Philip L. Hutson, of the state police, said that he shot the girl when she repulsed his advances and threatened to tell her sister.

Carson's plea of guilty and pronouncement of sentence by Circuit Judge Charles B. Collingwood followed this morning. The defendant, who was released from the Michigan State Reformatory at Ionia only last August after completing a sentence for burglary, testified briefly in court, reiterating his confession.

Sue Herbert Fleishacker for $348,125—Borrower Says Loan Was "Personal"

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—Twelve stockholders of the Anglo-California National Bank of San Francisco filed suit in Federal Court yesterday against Herbert Fleishacker, accusing him of appropriating about $348,125 in "secret profits" earned by bank funds. Fleishacker is president of the bank.

The 12, all of whom live in France, asked for distribution of profits earned by a $500,000 loan made to M. Nardé & Sons, Inc., of Portland, in 1919.

At Portland, J. N. Barde, president of the company, said Fleishacker had lent his company the money "personally." "So far as I know," he said, "the money was his, personally, and the bank did not enter into the deal in any way."

Plaintiffs are Lucien Blum, Edmond Lang, Elizabeth Lang, Rena Fould, Esther Fould, Max Lazard, Roger Haas, Andre Haas, Lucie Emilie Lewyler, S. A. Jahanssen, G. O. Hoffman and Henry Leon.

Named as defendants with Fleishacker are Victor Klinker,

Harry I. Thompson, the Palo Alto Stock Farms, Ind., Anglo California National Bank and 10 John Does. The other defendants, not named, served as "dummies" in the deal to "hide the awarding of profits to Fleishacker."

Largest manufacturers in the country advise us that they are receiving word daily from the largest woolen mills in the country... ALL with the same message... "PRICES ARE WITHDRAWN!"

There is a rumor in the wind—higher, probably much higher woolen prices! And when woolen prices go up, all the rest of the materials follow along with it. Labor goes on the bandwagon, too!

What's this all leading to? It's our guess that Mr. John Public is going to pay more money for clothing and sooner than he thinks!

We can't protect you forever! One of these fine mornings you're going to wake up and find Kelly's 2-Garment Sale a Thing of the Past... then you will pay even more for KELLY CLOTHING!

We still have a complete assortment of thousands of garments to show you—more suits and overcoats at a single price than can be found in most stores and if you're a 34, or even a 52, we can fit you with ease and variety.

We have labored long and honestly to give you fine values, perfect satisfaction and sound clothing advice and if our word on that last point means anything to you—you'll BUY NOW and buy enough to carry you through this Winter and next!

DOCTOR KIDNAPED AND ROBBED

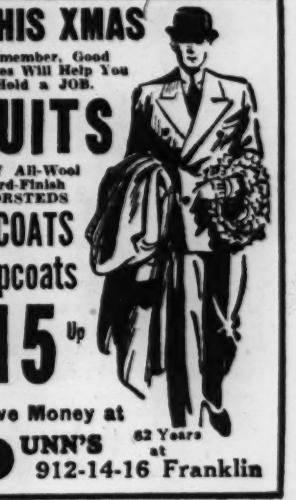

LEFT BOUND IN SCHOOLHOUSE

Seized in Front of His Office at Seneca, Kan., and Driven into Country.

SENECA, Kan., Dec. 6.—Two men armed with pistols forced Dr.
Galen Snyder into his automobile in front of his office here last night and, after taking him 12 miles east of here, left him bound in a schoolhouse and drove away with his car and $15.

Dr. Snyder said he worked himself loose in about 20 minutes and walked to a farmhouse, where he telephoned the Sheriff.

Dr. Snyder was unable to give a good description of the men who abducted him.

PAstry TRUCK BOMBED

IN FIRM'S DRIVEWAY

Explosion at Lutters Co., 6044 Southwest, Breaks Windows in Nearby Houses.

A motor truck of Lutters Pastry Co., 6044 Southwest avenue, was bombed at 3 a. m. today, the explosion shattering windows in the neighboring houses.

The truck was parked in a driveway back of the shop. The bomb, placed on the hood, blew out the roof and glass and damaged the engine of the machine, which was purchased several months ago. No estimate was made of the damage.

Lambo Shmagranoff, owner of the concern, which supplies pastry to restaurants, told police he could not account for the bombing. There had been no trouble of any kind and no threats had been received, he asserted.

Shmagranoff, who resides at 417 McKelt Avenue, was asleep in his office at the shop and was awakened by the explosion.

Glass shattered over the bed of Raymond and Henry Hart, sons of Detective Frank Hart, who live at 10 windows were shattered in the Hart home, 6100 Southwest Avenue. The boys were not hurt. Glass also fell on a bed in which Mrs. Martha Gubor and her daughter, Gale, were asleep at their home, 2815 Knox court. Nine windows were smashed in the home, four windows in the home of Theodore Dust-man, 6107 Southwest Avenue, and 36 panes were broken in a garage back of the pastry shop.

A section of burned fuse, which apparently had been attached to the bomb, was found near the truck.

SOUTHERN EDUCATORS ASK FOR LOUISIANA U. INVESTIGATION

Want to Find Out Whether Senator Long Is Running the School.

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTA, Dec. 6.—An investigation of charges that Senator Huey
P. Long is "running" Louisiana State University was requested today by the Executive Committee of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The committee also asked that the association's commission on higher education look into conditions at the State Normal College at Norcross, Ga., La. The commission is composed of 34 members of the association.

The action of the Executive Committee was announced by Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the organization and of the University of Kentucky.

By the Associated Press.

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 6.—The University of Louisiana yesterday dismissed two students and indefinitely suspended five as a result of the controversy over
"Reveille," student publication.

Twenty-two others previously suspended are back in school.

The dismissed students had made public affidavits that Senator Huey P. Long directed the "gagging" of the publication when he saw an advance proof of the paper three weeks ago in which a student's letter criticized Long for naming Abe Mickal, star halfback, a "State Senator."

The action of Dr. James H. Smith, president of the university, in dealing with the situation, was approved by the student council. One of the council members signing the resolution was Mickal.

Twenty-two others previously suspended are back in school.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The Metropolitan Museum of Art has acquired another masterpiece formerly exhibited in the Hermitage, the Russian national museum. It is "Le Mezzetin," a small canvas by the French artist, Antoine Watteau, and one of seven Watteau paintings bought by Catherine the Great in 1765-67.

The painting was sold by the Russian Government several years ago to an art firm here, and then brought to the Chicago Art Institute for exhibition in connection with the World's Fair.

Although executives of the Metropolitan refused to say what price was paid, the New York Times mentions $250,000 as being one reported figure. The Times adds that this is believed to be in excess of what the museum actually paid.

JEAN HARLOW SUES TO DIVORCE HER NO. 3

Movie Actress Says Hal G. Rosson Was Sullen and Continuously Brutal.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 6.—Jean Harlow, movie actress, filed suit for divorce yesterday against Hal G. Rosson, cameraman. They were married 18 months ago after an elopement.

Charging mental cruelty, she says Rosson often read until late hour in her bedroom, preventing her from sleeping. She cites numerous instances of marital discord, including a charge that Rosson was continually uninvitable and of an ungenerous character.

She complains that he refused to help her entertain friends and associates of the movie colony, and this, she recites, constituted "continuous brutality."

Once, on Oct. 7, 1933, a month or two after their elopement, Miss Harlow says Rosson remained aloof in one room in their Beverly Hills home while she entertained in another part of the house. On Oct. 7, of this year, she charges, he "acted up" while they were attending a buffet dinner given in their honor.

When she was late getting home from the studio for an appointment with her husband, he scolded her, and once he refused to attend a wedding of two of Miss Harlow's best friends, her petition sets forth.

No property dispute is involved, the two having entered into an agreement shortly after their marriage by which each held their earnings and holdings separate.

The 23-year-old actress, whose name originally was Harlean Carpenter, first was married to Charles F. McGraw III, of Chicago. That was in 1927, when she was 16. Two years later they were divorced. In 1932, after her rise to film fame, Miss Harlow was married to Paul Bern, movie executive. The marriage ended with Bern's suicide less than a year later. She and Rosson were wed Sept. 18, 1933, in Yuma, Ariz.

Eight months later they separated, Miss Harlow remaining in their home and Rosson taking residence at the Hollywood Athletic Club. At that time divorce proceedings were held in abeyance because of Rosson's illness with infantile paralysis. When he recovered he went abroad.

FATHER, SON HELD IN ROBBERIES

Man, 70, and Boy, 17, Arrested With 10 Youths in Chicago Raid.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Henry Hess, 70 years old; his son, Edward, 17, and 10 other youths were held last night after the youths had confessed to participation in 50 robberies and had been identified by 30 victims, according to the police.

The suspects were arrested in a raid on the Hess home after the police had learned that the youths met there. Officers said they specialized in holding up groceries, bus drivers and street car conductors.

Farmer Arraigned in Shooting.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 6.—James Rone, 58-year-old Orrick, Mo., farmer, was arraigned Tuesday on a charge of assault with intent to kill in connection with the shooting of William Pryor, 51, Sunday night. Pryor is in dangerous condition. Rone's preliminary hearing was set for Dec. 18, and he furnished $5000 bond.

NEW AIR BASE LOOKS LIKE SPANISH VILLAGE

California Bungalows Instead of Barracks—Headquarters a Reproduction of Mission.

By the Associated Press.

HAMILTON FIELD, Cal., Dec. 6.—Approximately midway between the Canadian and Mexican borders of the United States a Spanish village of the United States is being built by the Government at a cost of $4,874,302. Its residents will begin moving in this month, and the thousand acres it covers, once the location of an Indian village, will become what is described as the world's most modern bombing base.

Hamilton Field, seven miles north of San Rafael, Cal., lying between the coast redwood belt and San Pablo Bay, will be the base of the Seventh Bombardment Group of the United States coast defenses. It will be the training ground for this branch of the Air Corps.

The site was selected because of its central location north and south and because it would be sheltered from gunfire of an enemy fleet.

Bungalows for Personnel.

Eight hundred enlisted men, 75 commissioned officers and 70 non-commissioned officers have been provided with homes. Absent are the rows of homely red-brick barracks and dormitories. Instead there are bungalows of California-Spanish design, lawns with shrubs and flowers, modern plumbing and attractive interior features.

Each house is situated to take advantage of shade trees and vista. There are tree-lined boulevards, lawns shaded by live oaks; the atmosphere of an exclusive suburb. The headquarters building is a reproduction of one of California's oldest missions.

The field was named in honor of First Lieut. Lloyd Andrews Hamilton of the Seventeenth Aero Squadron, who was killed in action near Lagnicourt, France, Aug. 26, 1918.

Hangars for 60 Bombers.

There are large hangars which shelter 50 new Martin bombers which have a speed of 220 miles per hour and carry a crew of four. The planes have a landing radius of 1000 miles and, pending construction of additional defensive facilities, would be charged in time of war with supplementing the aerial defense of the West Coast from Alaska to Mexico.

It is complementary to the pursuit squadrons now located at March Field, Riverside, Cal.

KENTUCKY JUDGE HAS 3 PRISONERS CHAINED TO POLES

Men Who Refused to Work Out Drunkenness Fines Spend Several Hours in Shackles on Street.

By the Associated Press.

PAINTSVILLE, Ky., Dec. 6.—Two men were chained to power line poles and one to a tree at a street intersection here yesterday for refusal to work out fines imposed for drunkenness.

After spending several hours there on order of Police Judge R. A. Patrick, and still refusing to work, they were sent back to jail for luncheon and then ordered kept there.

Attorney-General Bailey P. Wootton at Frankfort said in answer to an inquiry that he knew of no provision in Kentucky law for chaining prisoners on the public streets. He knew of no precedent for such punishment.

The three men were James Price, 23 years old; William Dills, 25, and Oscar (Blackie) Pelphey, 22.

Crowd Gathers.

A crowd gathered as the men were fastened in the main street near the Courthouse with log chains to which were attached 25-pound iron balls. Padlocks secured the chains to the poles.

Some of the spectators, indignant, sat chairs for Price and Pelphey. They were shivering in the chilly mountain breeze, without overcoats.

Dill had an overcoat.

Judge Patrick was quoted as saying he feared the men might catch pneumonia and for that reason later put them in jail. He indicated he would keep them in jail indefinitely unless they agreed to work out their fines. They did not have physicians' certificates to show they were unable to work on the streets, a common procedure here in such cases.

They won't get any credit on their fines until they obey the order of the Court," Judge Patrick said. He declared the men had "rebelled" when he ordered them to go to work on the streets.

Asked whether the weather was the sole factor in his change of plans, Judge Patrick said, "I wouldn't say that."

"They have made too much of a small thing," the Judge said. He

WOMAN FOUND SHOT ON MILITIA RESERVE

Passing Motorist Hears Her Cry Out, Sees Auto Drive Away.

By the Associated Press.

LEBANON, Pa., Dec. 6.—Miss Emma Miller, 26 years old, of Lebanon, was found shot and seriously wounded in the Pennsylvania National Guard drill ground at Colebrook, near here, early today.

The bullet struck just under the heart and lodged in her back. Powder burns indicated the shot had been fired at close range.

County Detective Tucker said a passing motorist heard her cry out and saw an automobile speed away. The motorist went to the cabin of Capt. Robert Lesser nearby and together they hurried to the field and found Miss Miller.

She was brought to a Lebanon hospital and operated on immediately. Her condition was said to be grave.

CHARGES NRA OUTPUT COSTS AID FOREIGN COMPETITORS

Cotton Textile Institute Urges Government to Protect Market at Home and Abroad.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6—Government action to "protect American industry and American labor in the marketing of American cotton textiles at home and abroad" was urged unanimously yesterday by directors of the cotton textile institute.

The resolution, presented by George A. Sloan, president of the institute at its annual meeting convened that production costs "increased by NRA" had enabled foreign competitors "with lower standards of living to invade both foreign and domestic markets."

Export trade, the directors said, could not be regained "without the active cooperation of the Government."

ADING TULSA
TEAM TONIGHT

CONTEST TO BE PLAYED OCT. 26; BEARS IN SHAPE FOR METHODISTS

By James M. Gould.

As a further step in the "big time" football program planned by Washington University for the season of 1935, announcement was made today that the Bears would meet the strong Michigan State team on Oct. 26, the game to be played at East Lansing.

The Bears, having holdover contracts with the Missouri Tigers and the St. Louis U. Billikens, are to play Illinois at Champaign Oct. 5, so the Michigan State game is the fourth to be announced on a schedule which probably will include nine games.

Michigan State has come to the front in football in the last few years. On their 1933-34 schedule were Grand Rapids, Michigan, Carnegie Tech, Manhattan, Marquette, Syracuse, Detroit and Kansas. They were defeated only by Syracuse.

Conzelman Expects Anything.

About the only thing Coach Jimmy Conzelman of the Bears is expecting from the Southern Methodist Mustangs in the Boys' Club charity game here, Saturday, is the unexpected. These Texas Mustangs are like that. Possessors of such a clever attack that the team has been dubbed "The Flying Circus," the Southerners have also productive running offense. So, the Mustangs plan is—when they expect a pass, run, and when they expect you to run, pass. This system, admittedly clever, can be very annoying to the opposition.

It is no great secret that Conzelman expects to be somewhat amazed by the Mustangs. He knows their record, has scouted them in action this season and admits they have speed, power, and deception. He also remembers that, in the game with Fordham in the Fall, the Mustangs expected to cut out with a flock of passes, only drew eight during the game and won the decision by their running. However, Conzelman expects a little annoying himself with a dash here and a pass there and perhaps a combination of the two. The passing and the passing, Jimmie hopes, will provide the visiting Texas with a full 60 minutes of good football fun.

Mustangs In Condition.

Southern Methodist finished third in the Southwestern Conference which ended a week ago, trailing only Rice and Texas University. Good enough, Rice was defeated by Texas Christian and defected while S. M. U. lost to Baylor and won from Texas Christian, which would indicate that the Methodists were in the same high class with Rice.

John Stewart, assistant director of athletics at Southern Methodist, here to prepare the way for the team, reports that every one of the Mustangs, including the star quarterback Wilson, will be ready to play and return to go Saturday. The Mustangs arrive tomorrow morning and will take a workout at Welsh Memorial Stadium in the afternoon. Director Stewart warned the Bears in practice work yesterday afternoon and was impressed by their size. He rated Conzelman's men as heavy as the Muskies or nearly so.

Washington has no cripes. Captain Harry Brown and Glen Molitor, the big end, mused up a bit in the Thanksgiving day game with Billikens, reported for work yesterday and positively will be ready for service.

Bears' Regulars to Start.

The Washington starting lineup probably will be the ones that became so familiar during the regular season with Jezzi at center, Ladd and Konicka at guards, Lamb and Bentzinger at tackles and Houghard and Miller at the ends. In the backfield, Zboynicky will signal to Chick Droke, Harry Brown and Don Wimberly. There is no chance that Bob Hudgens may find in Brown's place.

Father Maxwell, executive head of the Boys' Club, reports that the advance sale is the largest ever noted for charity games promoted for his club.

Assistant director of athletics Stewart of S. M. U. is a brother-in-law of Jack Knott, the Browns' pitcher.

Tex Carlton, former Cardinal pitcher who recently was down stated to the Cubs, is hunting down state and is expected to attend the game.

Southern Methodist schedules are noted for intersectional games. The Mustangs have traveled extensively and have met Missouri, Army, Nebraska, Notre Dame, Indiana, Navy, St. Mary's, Syracuse and Fordham.

In regular season games, the Mustangs scored an average of 18.7 points a game to 5.7 for the opponents and if they work against Waco, it may be that another St. Louis team will make payoffs of 10.7, just as the Cardinals did in the World Series.

Cleveland, which tied for the 1934 City High School League football championship with McKinley and Roosevelt, is making its first post-season trip since 1932, when it lost to Little Rock, Ark., 6 to 0. The Cardinals eleven won the title that year and followed it up with another championship team in 1933.

After the game with Waco, the squad will remain in the city until Sunday, and will arrive in St. Louis early Monday morning.

Teaching the Young Idea How to Shoot!—The First-Class in Billiards Get's a Tryout at Pete's

A nation-wide campaign to bring back the game of billiards is under way. Coached by Charles Peterson of this city instructors have been sent out from Chicago to all sections of the United States, to give free lessons. Here is a group of young women receiving instructions from Coy Julian. Left to right: Lilly Craft, Mabel Jabrin, Helen Farr, Mary Marshall, Fay Harris, Coy Julian, Sunny Bright, Mrs. Chas. Football Attendances Showed Increase Over Last Season;
"Irish" Played to 357,000 Fans

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—College football attendance, rebounding from the low point reached in 1932, showed continued gains in all sections of the United States in the season now nearing an end, a compilation by the Associated Press today shows.

32 representative teams chosen for the survey, 24 reported gains over last year, with only eight failing to draw more customers.

The increase was not so great as a whole, nor were any individual gains as large this year as in 1933, but it was general and not confined to any one section.

The Middle West showed almost as good a gain as did the East and South—the leaders in this year's turnstile parade—and only the Far West showed a decline as a section.

There the fall off was largely at Southern California. The Trojans, muddling through their worst season in years, drew only 223,000 fans to seven home games as compared to 400,000 to the same number in 1933.

Small Decline at Yale. In the East, Yale, Princeton and Fordham all showed small declines but their losses were more than made up by Navy, Army, Columbia—cashing in on its Rose Bowl publicity—Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania.

Notre Dame took from Southern California the honor of playing before the most fans, the South Bend Ramblers "showing" to 357,000 this year, closely followed by Army, which drew 325,000 to 10 games.

Washington has no cripes. Captain Harry Brown and Glen Molitor, the big end, mused up a bit in the Thanksgiving day game with Billikens, reported for work yesterday and positively will be ready for service.

Bears' Regulars to Start.

The Washington starting lineup probably will be the ones that became so familiar during the regular season with Jezzi at center, Ladd and Konicka at guards, Lamb and Bentzinger at tackles and Houghard and Miller at the ends.

In the backfield, Zboynicky will signal to Chick Droke, Harry Brown and Don Wimberly. There is no chance that Bob Hudgens may find in Brown's place.

Father Maxwell, executive head of the Boys' Club, reports that the advance sale is the largest ever noted for charity games promoted for his club.

Assistant director of athletics Stewart of S. M. U. is a brother-in-law of Jack Knott, the Browns' pitcher.

Tex Carlton, former Cardinal pitcher who recently was down stated to the Cubs, is hunting down state and is expected to attend the game.

Southern Methodist schedules are noted for intersectional games. The Mustangs have traveled extensively and have met Missouri, Army, Nebraska, Notre Dame, Indiana, Navy, St. Mary's, Syracuse and Fordham.

In regular season games, the Mustangs scored an average of 18.7 points a game to 5.7 for the opponents and if they work against Waco, it may be that another St. Louis team will make payoffs of 10.7, just as the Cardinals did in the World Series.

Cleveland, which tied for the 1934 City High School League football championship with McKinley and Roosevelt, is making its first post-season trip since 1932, when it lost to Little Rock, Ark., 6 to 0. The Cardinals eleven won the title that year and followed it up with another championship team in 1933.

After the game with Waco, the squad will remain in the city until Sunday, and will arrive in St. Louis early Monday morning.

WRESTLING RESULTS

PEORIA, Ill.—Jim London won from Fred Gohmeyer of Marion, Ia., in 3m 40s. London, 19, and Gohmeyer, 20, agreed to draw with George Tragos, St. Louis, 209; Andy Rasche, Indianapolis, 203; Drew Jackson, Oklahoma City, 201; and Tommy Marvin, Oklahoma City, 248, put Chris Davies, Pueblo, Colo., 208, to the mat in 1m 18s.

HOLYWOOD, Calif.—Vic Christy, 206, California, and Boris Demetroff, 210, St. Louis, 212, fought out of the ring and Christy was his opponent was unable to continue.

HOLYOKE, Mass.—Casey Kammann, 19, and Leo Kammann, ex-Celtic and former All-American football star, in 6m 33s.

NEW YORK—Maneuve La Chappelle, France, threw Joe Banaski, Poland.

TURNERS UPSET
MUNYCHAMPIONS
IN BASKET PLAY

The fact that the Goliaths won the title championship in the Men's Municipal Basketball League last season apparently means little or nothing to the North St. Louis Turners. At the least the latter team showed a woeful lack of respect for the Muny kings last night at the Sherman Park Community Center as they gained a 20-16 victory in the opening round of the Wednesday Night Division. The Young Democratic Club piled up a rugged majority in beating the Triple A quintet, 37-17, in the first contest of the twin bill.

In both contests passing was generally without deliberation and marked by wobbly execution. Shooting was equally ragged, many times five goals and one assist for a total of six points, one more than the center man on his forward line, Carl Voss, who has made five assists. Since these figures were compiled, however, Carl scored his first goal of the season.

Carl Roche, another Eagle left wing, is fifth in scoring in the International Division of the National Hockey League figures released today and including games of Dec. 2 disclosure. Syd is credited with five goals and one assist for a total of six points, one more than the center man on his forward line, Carl Voss, who has made five assists. Since these figures were compiled, however, Carl scored his first goal of the season.

Earl Roche, another Eagle left wing, is tied with Glen Brydon with four points each to be next in line of the Eagles while Scotty Bowman has three points to his credit.

Harvey "Bushy" Jackson, sensational left wing of the Toronto Maple Leafs, is far ahead in the race for individual scoring honors in the division with 10 goals and four assists for 14 points, two more than the right wing partner, Charlie Conacher.

The Eagles today prepared to depart for Montreal where they oppose the Maroons Saturday night, returning to Detroit for a game Sunday night, after which they return to St. Louis to meet Detroit Thursday night.

Their 2 to 0 victory over the New York Americans at the Arena Tuesday night was a tonic for the Eagles and that coupled with the fact that they have just obtained another first-class forward in Joe Lamb, who will be with them in Montreal, will put the club in much better spirits.

Lamb's addition was the fifth to the club roster in the last week. Other recent additions were Archie Wilcox, obtained from Boston, who also will join the club in Montreal, George Patterson, Vic Ripley and Nick Wasilewski.

Fouls played a prominent part in the embarrassment of the Goliaths. Eleven penalties were called and the Turnverein boys "batted" 500 on these chances by putting in six shots.

BRUNDAGE TO RETIRE AS PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL A. A. U.

OLYMPIC GAMES WILL BE CHIEF TOPIC TO COME BEFORE LEADERS

By the Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 6.—Relieved of further controversy over Germany's racial policies by official American acceptance of the invitation to the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin, delegates to the annual convention of the Amateur Athletic Union, starting at the Miami Biltmore Hotel tomorrow, will tackle preliminary plans for United States participation in all sports in the next international carnival of competitive sport.

Not only does the complicated framework of the Olympic structure call for activity on the fund-raising foundation, well in advance of the games, but it is closely tied up with the details of domestic sports business which form a major or portion of the three day A. A. U. program.

From Avery Brundage of Chicago president of the A. A. U. as well as the American Olympic Committee, the convention will likely hear a report of the investigation which led to final acceptance of the German invitation as well as an appeal to organize country-wide support for the forthcoming Olympics.

Brundage's leadership is expected to overcome lingering opposition in A. A. U. ranks to support of the Berlin games, growing out of the criticism of Germany's treatment of Jewish athletes.

Brundage Will Retire.

Before relinquishing the presidency of the A. A. U., which he has stated he will do at this convention regardless of pressure to retain the job, Brundage hopes to organize a definite program of Olympic preparation which will urge the delegates to avoid the mistake of letting the major share of plans go until the 1935 convention and thereby run the risk of not having sufficient time to achieve the financing of a full American team.

"Our leadership in world athletics has been challenged to a greater extent than ever before," said Brundage today. "Even with the games held in this country in 1932, under conditions best suited to our athletes, we were hard-pressed. We already have proof of the tremendous strides Japan has made in athletics and I am in position personally to testify that Germany is preparing for a notable comeback in 1936 in nearly every branch of competition. All the other leading European countries will be far more strongly represented at Berlin than they were at Los Angeles. Our athletes, therefore, will be put to the severest test and it becomes essential for us to spare no effort toward organizing, equipping and financing the best available talent."

Robertson to Be Coach.

While the A. A. U. will exercise its influence formally through the American Olympic Committee in the selection of coaches for the 1936 Olympics, it is probable that Lewison Robertson of the University of Pennsylvania again will be asked to become head coach of the track and field team. Robertson has handled this job for the past three Olympics, aided by a group of other college coaches. Already, for this staff, sectional support has developed for the inclusion of such successful coaches as Emil von Ellig of New York University, R. L. (Dink) Timpton of Stanford, Brutus Hamilton of California, Dean Cromwell of Southern California and Berne Moore of Louisiana State.

Upwards of 300 delegates are expected for the A. A. U. meetings. Young Named Captain.

COLUMN

Although old and heavy, he went 26 rounds under a broil sun. And that takes courage.

Willard thinks Dempsey caught on the down grade and after years of idleness. But to us who saw that slaughter was impossible to conceive Willard in any stage of his career, able to avoid the terrible effects of those piston-like arms the Giant Killer.

Years of fight-following this boxer has never witnessed a punished fighter than Willard that July day in Toledo. He had to drap Willard's head in a towel, as he left the ring, void shocking the spectators, was the sanguinary mess Dempsey had made of him.

Good Fighters Today.
The next champion? You tell me. There isn't much in sight. Jess said in answering a question. "Lasky is a fine-looking man, but can't seem to get to good ones. Levinsky is a big, gay fellow, tough—and that's Hamas I don't know, but his dad is just fair. Baer doesn't look serious. I couldn't venture a guess as to the next champion."

LEESBURG, Ill., Dec. 6.—Coach Burdick, whose willing but Knox football team failed to a single point all season as it is losing streak to 27 consecutive games, is going back to professional football and his law books. Resigned his post yesterday announced his plans to seek a like coaching job or a play-off position with the Detroit Lions. His off time in Detroit he attended law school.

Burdick, a line star at the University of Illinois in 1927-28 and '29, and three seasons in the National League, two with the Chicago Bears and last season with the Miami Reds. During the off-season he was a professional wrestler. At the conclusion of the 1933 season, Detroit, which had purchased the Portsmouth (O.) club, added four players to Cincinnati, Burdick who subsequently was on Dick's suspended list when he decided to coach the Knox ball team.

PAGE 6B CHANGES IN MISSOURI LIQUOR LAWS SOUGHT

State-Wide Dealers' Association Wants Rigid Regulation of 3.2 Beer Bars.

Changes in State liquor laws that will be sought by the Missouri State-Wide Liquor Dealers, a new association, were explained in a statement today by Roy T. Graham of Clayton, president. One of the principal objectives is extension of strict regulation of bars which sell beer at not more than 3.2 percent alcohol content.

The organization is composed of owners licensed to dispense beverages having an alcoholic content of more than 3.2 per cent. It has opened headquarters at Clayton. Other officers are: Vice-presidents, F. M. O'Rourke of St. Joseph and J. W. Kenniston of St. Louis; secretary, George Fowler; treasurer, A. A. Romig, St. Joseph.

"One of the most prolific sources of joy to the professional prohibitionist," Graham said, "is the unregulated 3.2 beer establishment which pays a paltry $35 annual license fee, may remain open every hour of the day, and, because of its ridiculously low license fee, is enabled to attract the high school girl and boy, offering large samples of beer at 10 cents and even 5 cents."

"We want to co-operate in putting over a legislative program that will insure proper control of the beer and liquor business. We favor search and seizure; the empowering of liquor inspectors to make arrests anywhere in the State; the confiscation of liquor illegally brought into the State; placing control of 3.2 beer under the State Liquor Supervisor; making a second, or subsequent, violation of the liquor laws a felony; empowering county courts to act against persons operating without a permit, so as to take care of violators in unincorporated areas; and closing regulations to apply to all beer and liquor dispensaries."

$4,300 IN WAGES REQUIRED BY NRA RESTORED IN MISSOURI

Acting Compliance Director Announces Actions Affecting 1465 Employees in Six Months.

During the six-month period ending Nov. 29, a total of $43,305 was restored to 1465 employees of Missouri business firms who had been receiving smaller salaries than those specified by NRA codes, Charles L. Hodge, acting State NRA Compliance Director, announced yesterday.

A total of 383 firms were found to be paying less than the minimum code wages and the codes involved totaled 108, Hodge said. Among the industries in which pay adjustments were made were the motion picture, restaurant, grocery and retail food, electrical manufacturing, retail motor vehicle and rubber manufacturing industries.

On Jan. 1, the National Industrial Recovery Board will begin regular and systematic inquiries into all industries to ascertain whether they are complying with NRA regulations, Hodge said.

New York Court Makes Decision in Case Involving Heirs' Absence From Liquor.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—A will which attaches conditions to legacies without providing a practical method for checking whether the conditions are fulfilled voids the conditions, Surrogate James A. Foley ruled yesterday.

The ruling was in connection with the will of the late Cephas Taylor, who specified that his sons should not receive the principal from trust funds set up for them unless they abstained from alcoholic liquors for five years.

The Surrogate ruled that the residuary estate of Taylor, who died June 25, is presently distributable among the sons. The estate is valued at more than $10,000.

PENSION SWINDLER WHO HID MOTHER'S BODY GETS 3 YEARS

Woman Pleads Guilty at Kansas City of Forging Government Checks.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 6—Mrs. Myrtle Latimer, 55 years old, of Seneca, Kan., who kept her mother's body hidden in the house for more than two years after the latter died in order to draw the mother's Civil War pension checks, was sentenced yesterday to three years in the Federal reformatory for women at Alderson, W. Va.

Mrs. Latimer pleaded guilty in Federal Court to six counts charging forgery of Government checks.

During the time Mrs. Latimer concealed the body she sent announcements to the Seneca newspaper on the mother's birthdays and gave accounts of purported trips her mother had taken. The suspensions of the postmaster at Seneca led to Mrs. Latimer's arrest.

NRA HAS FAILED TO FULFILL HOPES

Tells Industry, How-

Will Not Withdraw Till Private Capital Is Active.

FINDS TWO FAULTS WITH OPERATION

Eagerness of Some Business Men to Use It for Personal Gain, and Growth of Rules.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The fallout of NRA so far to fulfill all the hopes of its founders was reported last night by Donald Richberg, executive director of the National Emergency Council.

The President's recovery coordinator told the Congress of American Industry meeting here, however, that "we see the foundation of a better economic system outlined in the principles which we have been seeking to make effective in the last 17 months."

To business' lack of organizations to take over the job of self-government, and to opportunities missed by both business and Federal officials, Richberg attributed the failure to attain all the aims of NRA.

Analysis of the Situation.

"It is much more important on this occasion," he said, "for us to work candidly to each other than to experiment with industrial self-government demonstrated all too clearly that private business is not adequately organized for cooperative action and self-discipline; and that political controls are a poor substitute for voluntary cooperation."

Richberg left no doubt, however, that NRA would go on. He declared, in effect, also, that the Government was not going to withdraw its hand from business until private capital is more active. He said:

"The wailing of timid men that they dare not rehabilitate their plants that they dare not expand their business or re-employ idle workers, until the safety of their operations is assured by the Government, furnishes only an incitement and justification of further extensions of the protecting and controlling powers of the state."

Again he asserted that the "insane relationship of Government and industry is not a theory, but a universal fact."

Two Faults With the NRA.

Richberg found two faults in the operation of NRA. He named them as the eagerness of some business men to use it for their personal gain and the growth of "hampering restrictions of rules and regulations."

"We found," he said, "that business men were theoretically opposed to Government interference, but practically anxious to wield potential power in the disciplining of their recalcitrant competitors.

"And we found developing, in spite of ourselves, all the hampering restraints of rules and regulations made necessary by the complexity and intricate detail of the problems which piled up on the desk of every administration officer."

Facing the Future.

"Now we face the future with the need of codes of fair competition and of their wise administration more plain than ever before; and with the difficulties of this achievement also made more clear.

"We see also that if we are to succeed, we must enlist the co-operation, not only of business men and consumers, in any endeavor to promote the smooth continuous co-operation of private enterprises in the service of the general welfare."

"If we are to count on co-operation in the development of a better industrial system, we must first labor for co-operation in the writing of the permanent law in which the economic interests will be protected. The responsibilities of management in the conduct of business and the rights of investors are, of course, recognized."

"We are passing out of a period of unrestrained competition, where in the guarantees of liberty written into the Constitution of the United States could be made good merely through insuring to each individual property owner and worker the opportunity to compete freely with his fellow citizen in the use of his property, or the employment of his labor."

An Appeal to Courage.

"May I say with all due respect, that I read with surprise and disbelief a statement of your board of directors that commitments would be undertaken 'only if business men believe that it will be safe and profitable to operate.'

"I beg to disagree with any assertion that business stagnates except when it is safe and profitable to operate. On the contrary, I assert that risk and adventure attract the only men who have

AGREEMENT ON THE SAAR

Members Say Settlement Between France and Germany Presages Era of Good Will.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Dec. 6.—The council of the League of Nations unanimously adopted today the Saar Committee's report embodying the recent Franco-German agreement reached at Rome. Members praised it as heralding an era of peace and good will in Europe.

Woodrow Wilson's doctrine of "self-determination" was defended by Maxim Litvinoff, Russia's Commissioner for Foreign Affairs, in connection with a discussion of the population of the Saar.

Germany Wants Small Force.

Members of the British delegation told the Associated Press that Germany had officially informed London it would accept an international force to police the Saar during the plebiscite Jan. 13, but suggested that it be as small as possible.

The Rome agreement arranges for final payment to France if the Saar votes to rejoin Germany.

Members of the League think they have a solution of the problem of policing the Saar in Great Britain's offer to send troops there on France's agreement to non-voters as well as voters.

All this is based on the belief that the people of the Saar will vote in favor of the return to Germany.

The report uses the Treaty of Versailles phrase, "Sovereignty of whole or part of the territory." This is interpreted to mean that if the ballot is not decisive in the various voting districts, the league can decide to divide the territory in accordance with the wishes of the inhabitants.

It also might mean that if two or more districts vote overwhelmingly for league sovereignty, the league would be obliged to accept such sovereignty.

Improved Relations Between France and Germany Worry Russia.

Concerned over the prospect of a close understanding between France
and Germany, Soviet Russia has asked France not to conclude any special political accord with another nation pending the outcome of the international police force into the Saar basin territory to preserve law and order there during the plebiscite
next month.

Germany's reply to the League
offer of such a force was described as
"absolutely affirmative." It was thought that England took the initiative because it regards the plebiscite as a potential
menace to European peace.

League's Offer Accepted.

From official sources, it was learned that Konstantin von Neu-rath, German Foreign Minister, had telephoned German Consul Krauel at Geneva, authorizing the acceptance of the dispatch of an international police force into the Saar basin territory to preserve law and order there during the plebiscite
next month.

Germany's reply to the League
offer of such a force was described as
"absolutely affirmative." It was thought that England took the initiative because
it regards the plebiscite as a potential
menace to European peace.

United States Discovered at the Washington Conference.

Concerned over the prospect of a close understanding between France
and Germany, Soviet Russia has asked France not to conclude any special political accord with another nation pending the outcome of the
international police force into the Saar basin territory to preserve law and order there during the plebiscite
next month.

Russia was described by League of Nations sources as fearing isolation of the Soviet would result from any Franco-German political accord. It is understood France has agreed not to make any special bilateral political treaties without consulting Russia.

France, it was said, will continue its efforts to get both Germany and Russia into the proposed Eastern European convention—often called the "Eastern Locarno pact." Such a treaty, in the opinion of the French, who proposed it, would insure peace on Germany's Eastern frontier.

Russia is giving prime importance to the Eastern pact, since, with peace assured on its Western boundary, the Soviet would be free to cope with the Japanese problem in the Far East.

The agreement between France and Russia was said to have been reached directly between Pierre Laval, French Foreign Minister, and Maxim Litvinoff, Russian Foreign Minister.

The report said that if the population decided for the continuance of League control, "the League would be empowered to dispose of its sovereignty to an extent compatible with the provisions of the Treaty of Versailles."

The report also announced that

Several hundred detectives, whose activities were closely guarded, are studying ramifications of the traffic.
In some quarters the situation, which still is concealed from the Austrian people, was referred to as
"the armaments scandal."

Cabinet members, especially those who are the leaders of armed formations, were much annoyed and they are taking the stand that troubled Austria needs all the arms it can manufacture to meet possible emergencies at home. It was pointed out that Austria is buying arms from Italy.

The traffic was reported confined largely to the smaller factories, but a considerable number of these were said to be involved.

The Government investigation led to several arrests on undisclosed charges with the details closely guarded.

parts constitute the chief materials which have been going to Germany.

U. S. PROPOSED NAVY REDUCTION, DAVIS REVEALS

Ambassador-at-Large in Speech in London Tells of Offer Made at President's Order.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—United States Ambassador-at-Large Norman H.
Davis told Japan today that by scrapping the Washington naval treaty Japan would endanger security, create suspicion and force the world into a costly naval race.

Davis announced for the first time that President Roosevelt had proposed "a substantial all-around reduction in naval armaments."

Since no agreement to reduce has been reached, Davis said in a speech before the American Correspondents Association, the United States strongly advocates continuing the Washington and London treaties with their assurance of "equality of security."

Speech Held Significant.

The speech was the first comprehensive public pronouncement of the American position since the tripartite discussions opened. It is considered of high significance.

The Washington conference "put an end to a somewhat naval race," Davis said, and established "a sound basis for peace in the Pacific and
the Far East."

"Only by maintenance of the system of equality of security, with proportionate reductions downward of naval strength if possible," he declared, "can there be maintained the substantial foundation for security and peace which has thus been laid."

"Abandonment now of the principles involved, would lead to conditions of insecurity, of international suspicion, and of costly competition, with no real advantage to any nation."

Great Britain, Japan and the United States discovered at the Washington conference, he explained, that it was impossible to reach an agreement through academic discussion of a nation's naval needs or what it required to satisfy its national pride.

Essential Equality Reached.

Through co-operation, Davis declared, the nations concerned in promoting peace in the Far East and Pacific reached agreements which "established an equilibrium of political and economic rights and made possible naval limitation on the basis of essential equality of security."

"No nation," he said, "attempted to impose its will on the others, but each was willing to contribute something substantial to the achievement of the ends desired."

The United States, Davis recalled, voluntarily scrapped warships which would have given it naval primacy.

The essence of the Washington treaty was equality of security, Davis asserted, and an attempt to replace that principle with equality of armament would nullify that security.

"The United States favors a progressive reduction in naval armaments," he said, "in accordance with the principles established in the Washington and London treaties and, under instructions from the President, I have proposed a substantial all-round reduction

A Plan to Stimulate Heavy Industry.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I AM not a believer in Utopias or cure-alls. Such visionary projects as the Townsend plan leave me utterly cold. I do not wish that what I have to offer be considered in that light. It is not a radical step, nor do I feel it impossible of achievement. In the light of President Roosevelt's recent overtures to business, I think the following plan could very well be attempted.

Critics and friends of the administration alike have continually stressed the all important necessity of reviving heavy industry. Almost to a man, economists agree that recovery cannot be achieved unless this is done. I understand that there is, at the present time, in excess of 1 billion dollars locked up in the depreciation reserves of our corporations. If these reserves could be thrown on the market for new machinery, our business cycle could be primed at its very source.

I suggest a canvass of all industrial corporations, with a campaign for contingent pledges for the spending of this huge reservoir, on condition that no corporation need give final consent until all pledges are in. An active campaign, capably handled, coupled with wide publicity, might possibly accomplish the freeing of half this vast sum for replacement of old machinery and buildings.

A movement of this sort, if successful, would lack the defects of the public works program, in that it would not necessitate a vast bureaucracy for administration, and could be accomplished in far less time, with very little delay for red tape and the passing of enabling laws.

If our capitalists are interested in preserving democratic government, and can see beyond the economic pressure of the moment, they should grasp at this opportunity to prove their business sagacity.

MARTIN L. LARNER.

Man's Tragic Quest of Wars.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

WHENCE this urge in man to engage in war, or persistently and continuously prepare for war? Throughout the ages, he has suffered in futile conflict. Literally billions of lives have been lost, property destroyed, wealth disseminated. Utterable woe, pestilence and death have stalked the fair earth. The just, the noble, the conscientious, the flower of mankind, the exceeding and exalting sweetness of civilization, all condemn war, all recognize its futility. Yet the madness of preparation goes on.

We continue to crucify ourselves on the cross that emasculates economic freedom, ultimately impels the mother to scan with beating heart the fatal list, the gentle wife to become a supplicant, the child to know no more of the protecting hand. Can we in the realms of immortality give a proper accounting for these things? Where will we strike a balance between the individual rights of men and nations, and the more general and nobler rights of humanity? ARTHUR JOBSON.

Another Job Suggested for Washington.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

SINCE the Government is putting its paws into practically everybody's pie, why could it not take over (by quiet claim) all defaulting, but not defunct, first mortgage corporation bonds held by incomeless persons past 60 years of age, and give such persons a pension of, say, $40 a month for life? This plan would preserve the pride of these persons, and add to the Government's assets if properly and successfully carried out, as well as give employment to a specified class of workers whose first duty it would be to see that the defaulting concerns were not entangled in any receivership racket. Most of these concerns, with a boost from the Government, and under its eagle eye, would come back much more speedily than without it.

Later on, in certain cases where there were dependents on the pensioner, the revived securities might be returned and the pension canceled. J. M. B.

Mass Production to Mass Consumption.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I NOTE with much interest the article in the editorial section of the Post-Dispatch of Nov. 25, commenting on the barring from the CCC camps of Dr. W. F. Ogburn's book entitled "You and Machines."

To my mind, our present machine age seeks to master humanity. Our future machine age will be greater, more productive, modern and efficient, but we will humanize the machine when we learn to distribute its results properly into world consumption. Our slogan has been mass production, thus diverting the mass mind from mass consumption. Apparently, man's conception of mass production is to acquire vast surpluses at a minimum cost, without finding buying power to consume them.

Confessing its gross abuses, we can be proud of our machine and motor age. Our future slogan should be mass consumption: avoiding waste by striving to distribute production wisely into the great field of humanity for the welfare of mankind. Then mass production will prevail.

LOBBY AND LEGISLATURE.

E. W. Bennett of Salem, Dent County, a candidate for the speakership of the House in the next Missouri Legislature, charges in a public statement that the forthcoming January session is already being organized by powerful interests in the State.

It is not necessary to know anything about the speakership race to believe that something of the sort is going on. The last session of the Missouri Legislature was a sufficient warning of what may happen. Not in a quarter of a century had the State Assembly been so completely controlled by special interests, so far removed from the common interest.

Some of the states prepare for the legislative session by having a committee draft a tentative program. Nothing of the sort is done in Missouri. Instead of the representatives of the people organizing in anticipation of the session, it is the special interests that do so.

To enjoy such an enormous majority as it has in the Legislature increases the responsibility of the party in power—the Democratic party. It had only itself to blame for the record of the last session. It will have only itself to blame if the approaching session is a travesty on representative government.

Would it not be a good idea for the responsible leaders of the State administration to consider what Missouri is to get out of the Legislature in the next session? We think it would.

CREDIT FOR A GOOD WORK.

St. Louis has quite properly welcomed the beginning of the official existence of the new bar committee for the city, which is charged by the State Supreme Court with guarding the public and the legal profession locally against unethical practices by lawyers.

The community, however, would be ungrateful if it did not at the same time recognize its debt to the Grievance Committee of the St. Louis Bar Association.

Almost to a man, economists agree that recovery cannot be achieved unless this is done. I understand that there is, at the present time, in excess of 1 billion dollars locked up in the depreciation reserves of our corporations. If these reserves could be thrown on the market for new machinery, our business cycle could be primed at its very source.

I suggest a canvass of all industrial corporations, with a campaign for contingent pledges for the spending of this huge reservoir, on condition that no corporation need give final consent until all pledges are in. An active campaign, capably handled, coupled with wide publicity, might possibly accomplish the freeing of half this vast sum for replacement of old machinery and buildings.

A movement of this sort, if successful, would lack the defects of the public works program, in that it would not necessitate a vast bureaucracy for administration, and could be accomplished in far less time, with very little delay for red tape and the passing of enabling laws.

If our capitalists are interested in preserving democratic government, and can see beyond the economic pressure of the moment, they should grasp at this opportunity to prove their business sagacity.

Man's Tragic Quest of Wars.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

WHENCE this urge in man to engage in war, or persistently and continuously prepare for war? Throughout the ages, he has suffered in futile conflict. Literally billions of lives have been lost, property destroyed, wealth disseminated. Utterable woe, pestilence and death have stalked the fair earth. The just, the noble, the conscientious, the flower of mankind, the exceeding and exalting sweetness of civilization, all condemn war, all recognize its futility. Yet the madness of preparation goes on.

We continue to crucify ourselves on the cross that emasculates economic freedom, ultimately impels the mother to scan with beating heart the fatal list, the gentle wife to become a supplicant, the child to know no more of the protecting hand. Can we in the realms of immortality give a proper accounting for these things? Where will we strike a balance between the individual rights of men and nations, and the more general and nobler rights of humanity? ARTHUR JOBSON.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

SINCE the Government is putting its paws into practically everybody's pie, why could it not take over (by quiet claim) all defaulting, but not defunct, first mortgage corporation bonds held by incomeless persons past 60 years of age, and give such persons a pension of, say, $40 a month for life? This plan would preserve the pride of these persons, and add to the Government's assets if properly and successfully carried out, as well as give employment to a specified class of workers whose first duty it would be to see that the defaulting concerns were not entangled in any receivership racket. Most of these concerns, with a boost from the Government, and under its eagle eye, would come back much more speedily than without it.

Later on, in certain cases where there were dependents on the pensioner, the revived securities might be returned and the pension canceled. J. M. B.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I NOTE with much interest the article in the editorial section of the Post-Dispatch of Nov. 25, commenting on the barring from the CCC camps of Dr. W. F. Ogburn's book entitled "You and Machines."

To my mind, our present machine age seeks to master humanity. Our future machine age will be greater, more productive, modern and efficient, but we will humanize the machine when we learn to distribute its results properly into world consumption. Our slogan has been mass production, thus diverting the mass mind from mass consumption. Apparently, man's conception of mass production is to acquire vast surpluses at a minimum cost, without finding buying power to consume them.

Confessing its gross abuses, we can be proud of our machine and motor age. Our future slogan should be mass consumption: avoiding waste by striving to distribute production wisely into the great field of humanity for the welfare of mankind. Then mass production will prevail.

IS THE POSTAL SURPLUS A DECEPTION?

His critics have been busy analyzing Postmaster-General Farley's announced postal surplus of $12,161,415 for the last fiscal year. Many of them have reached the verdict that the department can show no surplus at all, but instead incurred a deficit. They point out that Mr. Farley deducted certain items of his department's expenditures, such as ocean and air mail subsidies, postage for Government departments, congressional franks, etc., in arriving at his net figure for the year. Were these items included, it is said, the result would be a deficit, variously estimated at from $40,000,000 to $52,000,000. Whereupon the Postmaster-General is vigorously assailed for making totally misleading statements, for attempting to deceive the people, for broadcasting a "gorgeous fiction" to make political medicine.

It is possible to dissent from these views without becoming an apologist for Mr. Farley. On occasion we have criticised his tactics in the conduct of both his public office and his political office. However, it seems worth while, in the interest of clarifying a disputed matter, to explain wherein the difference between Mr. Farley's figures and those of his critics arises.

The disagreement is caused by failure to distinguish between the Postoffice Department's gross figures and net figures. In omitting the various items mentioned from his final computation, Mr. Farley is simply complying with a law, passed in 1930, requiring him to do so. He might have made a fuller explanation, but his announcement did state that the final audit showed the announced surplus "after authorized adjustments had been made for certain subventions and free mailing services."

The intent of Congress in making this provision is clear. It is obviously unfair to saddle the Postoffice Department with the cost of subsidizing the air mail and merchant marine, or the other services. These items for 1934 include: ocean mail subsidies, $28,932,604; air mail subsidies, $12,992,991; postage for Federal departments, $23,094,882; congressional franks, $776,000; handling weekly newspapers free in countries where published, free service for Braille publications, special rates for religious publications, etc., about $1,000,000; total, about $66,500,000.

Manifestly, since most of these subsidies are granted as a matter of national policy for military defense, they should be charged to the War or Navy departments, or to a special fund, instead of to the Postoffice. Congress authorized the Postmaster-General to make the deduction to show the actual figure of the cost of conducting the postal service.

Even including all the gross charges, it is clear that Mr. Farley's department saved money last year. The deficit for 1932, for instance, was the record figure of $152,346,000, after all authorized deductions.

It is not fair, in our view, to say that Mr. Farley deliberately tried to fool the public, though he has, of course, made wide use of his showing as political propaganda. Far sounder criticism may be based on the fact that much of his saving is at the expense of employees. It is for this reason that we have urged the earliest possible restoration of wage cuts and a return to 2-cent letter postage, in view of the $12,000,000 legal surplus.

SUNSHINE FOREVER.

The National Association of Manufacturers has prepared a platform for economic recovery in which this plank appears:

Balance the Federal budget by the adoption of policies which will stimulate business, restore employment, increase national income, and permit cutting public expenses to fit reasonable taxes.

Sounder advice was never offered mortal man by mortal man. As a council of perfection, it breaks all the course records. It is the maraschino—the real McCoy. It makes Upton Sinclair look like a misanthrope. It's the farthest north in Utopia. It's good after a lay-off of upwards of three years.

The Panama was part of the daily life of the territory it served. Starting from Chicago, it split the Illinois prairie by day, picked up the passengers from St. Louis at Carondelet and then slipped across the Ohio into the State of the Bluegrass around nightfall. It was time for supper and cornbread in the towns, bedtime in others, time to get up and start another day in still others down in the plantation and bayou country. Housewives checked kitchen clocks by its whistle and men by force of habit took out their watches. And always it was a sight to see—by night, by day, in rain or snow.

Come on, fellows—three cheers for old Siwash!

THE GOVERNMENT RAISES SOME CASH.

The Federal Treasury latest financing operation—that of raising $900,000,000 in ready cash for Government uses—is notable for the welcome which the banks and other investors accorded the long-term securities offered. Books on a $450,000,000 issue of 3½ per cent bonds, running for 15 to 18 years, and on a $450,000,000 issue of 1½ per cent notes running for a year and a half, were closed the day they were opened. This is the first time in more than four years, according to Treasury officials, that an offering of new Federal securities has been sold out the day of its opening. The estimate of Undersecretary Coolidge is that the bonds were over-subscribed more than five times, and the notes more than seven times.

We noted the Panama Limited's disappearance with a heartfelt little piece called "Transportation Tears." We join the Mississippi Valley in welcoming its return. Old friends will need to adjust themselves to a shorter schedule—new trains are making better time these days—but they will do that gladly. An institution is back in place.

THE NEW SMOKE ORDINANCE.

Considerable opposition to the proposed smoke ordinance was expressed at the public hearing Monday before a committee of the Board of Aldermen. It was said that the present ordinance has not been given a fair chance and, if enforced, would result in much smoke abatement; that the new ordinance would increase administrative costs; that it is too drastic in some of its provisions; that it is impractical; that it would permit the sealing of boilers in private homes.

One thing is certain: the new ordinance does not go to the root of the smoke evil and, therefore, promises little in the way of improving St. Louis' atmosphere during winter months. The only way St. Louis ever will be rid of smoke is by making available to the mass of consumers a smokeless fuel that can be purchased at or around the levels of soft-coal prices, or by the invention of some inexpensive process to make soft coal smokeless.

For years, efforts have been made to get householders to fire their furnaces properly. They have been futile. Householders in the main will always fire their furnaces in the easiest way and that means the smoky way. Since it has been definitely shown that most of the smoke in St. Louis comes from home boilers and propane home owners for smoke ordinance violations, it is time we took a realistic view of the problem.

The president of Union College takes a swing at "dead beat" fraternities. Would the Greek for dead beat be delta beta? Instead of passing new smoke ordinances every

The Next Great Move

THIS moment has come when the President can prepare to take a decisive action for domestic recovery and international peace. It can be, I believe, an action which in its effect will be as general and as powerful as his action in leaving the old gold standard in the spring of 1933. It would consist in measures designed to release an immense volume of purchasing power which is now hoarded in Europe and America. The release of that purchasing power is now the most promising way to bring about a substantial rise in depressed prices, to open markets that are artificially closed and to make less probable revolution and war in Europe.

This is, I realize, a large claim. On what facts and on what reasoning does it rest?

The value of the world's gold supply, measured in terms of the two chief international currencies, is now about twice what it was at the beginning of the depression.

This is due in part to a large supply of newly minted gold, in part to the sale of gold that was hoarded in India, but in the main to the revaluation of the dollar and of the sterling currencies.

Such an increase in the supply of monetary gold must, by all experience of the past, produce a great rise in gold prices and with it a period of economic expansion.

We have a condition like that after the discovery of gold in California in the middle of the nineteenth century, and after the South African discoveries about 40 years ago.

Yet the fact is that gold prices have not risen

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. MONG blase spectators who watch the clash of New Deal gladiators, even money is now being offered that Donald Richberg will be out of the arena within a year.

This does not necessarily mean discredit to Richberg, but it does illustrate two things: First, no man who wins the title of "Assistant President" lasts long; second, the spotlight of public attention is now focused upon Richberg as on no other New Dealer except the President.

No man now has more power—outside the White House—than Richberg; and no man has achieved that power by a more fascinating, meteoric career.

It so happens that Richberg began that career with the only other man who approaches him in New Deal power. Harold Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, PWA administrator, petroleum dictator and executive of a score of other agencies, once was a law partner of Richberg.

They had built up a thriving practice when suddenly Richberg threw down his books, locked his desk, and went out to start crusade against Sam Insull, Chicago politicians and the big business leaders who controlled them.

And he was still a crusading lawyer—as chief attorney for the railroad brotherhoods—when he came to Washington.

No wonder that cold shivers ran down the spinal columns of business. No wonder that several Tory groups adopted as their battle cry: "Oust Richberg!"

Right About.

RICHBERG has changed a lot since then and now enjoys reverse praise and vituperation. Business calls him a "wise guy," while his old labor friends scarcely speak to him.

The change has made Richberg No. 2 man in the administration, eventually it will cause his downfall.

It is hard to diagnose the reasons for this change. But it is not hard to diagnose the reasons why he became "Assistant President." Richberg is one of the ablest men around Roosevelt. He is as quick as lightning. He has a powerful personality—charming understanding, a sense of humor. No matter how much you may disagree with Richberg you can't help liking him.

But perhaps more important than all these, Richberg sees eye-to-eye with the President. Like Roosevelt, Richberg essentially is a mid-of-the-road man. As he recently described himself:

"My liberalism is less radical than it is reputed to be, and more liberal than some say it is."

That is penetrating self-analysis. Richberg is neither anti-labor nor pro-industry. Actually, he is among the President's "Left" advisers. But he is so much more conservative than he used to be, that showers of Labor abuse have been heaped upon him.

Vituperation.

LABOR charges many things: That Richberg's pussyfooting on Section 7a of the NRA is responsible for the present chaos and misunderstanding on the labor front.

That Richberg OK'd in the steel code price-fixing practices which

HOW BERLIN HELPS ITS POOR IN WINTER

Relief Organization Prepares to Care for 850,000 Persons in City Alone.

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—The Winterhilfswerk—the nation-wide relief organization alleviating the winter sufferings of Germany's poor—will supply food, fuel and clothing to 850,000 needy persons in Berlin alone during the coming winter. This estimate was given by Herr Kloeckner, spokesman for the Berlin unit.

Kloeckner has a choice office in the W. H. W. Building in the Kaiser Wilhelmstrasse within the shadows of Berlin's palace district.

Not only are foreigners aided, but foreign as well as German Jews are helped. Last year there were 276 foreigners assisted in relief, among them 25 Americans and 36 Englishmen. Nearly every country in the world was represented among the needy of the capital who received it.

Poles, numbering 545, and 465 Russians led the list. In the Jewish table, it was shown 8791 German Jews and 2496 foreign Jews were helped in Berlin last year.

Each building in Berlin has a "hauswaltung," who reports to a block boss any cases of distress needing attention. The block boss relays word to his precinct chairman, who in turn gets in touch with the ward committeeman. These men relay information to the thorough leaders who make up the City Council.

By this system, each needy person is reached.

The headquarters is divided into nine departments, each headed by an expert. They are: Dwelling, food, fuel, clothes, furniture, medicine, health, jobs and hospitalization.

"Each applicant," explains Kloeckner, "must prove he is in need and that he has no relatives to whom he can turn for help. Having shown this, he is given whatever he needs."

LA GUARDIA DEBATES REPEAL WITH CLARENCE TRUE WILSON

Latter Says New York Was More Sober Under Prohibition; Mayor Challenges View.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The repeal of prohibition one year ago yesterday was assailed and defended last night in a debate between Dr. Clarence True Wilson, head of the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, and Mayor F. H. La Guardia.

Dr. Wilson, speaking from Washington, declared the "license system encourages excessive drinking." La Guardia, in New York, replied that he had been informed by the State Alcohol Control Board that "people are drinking more moderately than during prohibition." The debate was broadcast.

"We prefer prohibition at its worst to repeat at its best," Dr. Wilson said. "We think New York City was a more sober town, more orderly and safer under prohibition than Mr. La Guardia can make it under liquor license."

La Guardia said this statement was "most unfair" that "on the whole people are more sober." "Would it have been possible to clean out the racketeers and the gangsters as I have done since Jan. 1 under prohibition?" he asked. "Not at all. We drove them out of this city like rats."

PROSECUTOR OUTLINES CASE AGAINST MARTIN INSULL

Mass of Documents Recording Changing Value of Stocks Ready for Introduction.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—The State assembled a mass of documents today for introduction as evidence in an attempt to convict Martin Insull on a charge of embezzeling $344,720 from the Middle West Utilities Co.

The voluminous documents, recording the changing values of the stocks of the various Insull utility concerns, were withheld temporarily, however, while prosecutors outline the State's case before a jury whose members said they had lost nothing in the collapse of the Insull companies. The jury was completed yesterday in the criminal courtroom of Criminal Judge Cornelius J. Harrington.

Martin Insull Sr. lost his first attack today on the second Federal charge against him, one of violating the bankruptcy laws, and was ordered to appear for arraignment on Dec. 18 before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. The Judge overruled a demurser to the indictment. The Government has not decided whether it will prosecute this case.

74-YEAR-OLD MAN A FATHER FOR NINTH TIME IN 11 YEARS

Dr. St. Louis Estes, Advocate of Uncooked Foods, Has 10 Children, Two of Them Twins.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6.—Dr. St. Louis Estes, 74 years old, is a father for the ninth time.

The baby, a girl, was born on Thanksgiving night and the following day Mrs. Estes was up and about the house as usual. Dr. Estes explained: "It's uncooked foods."

They have been married 15 years, and have had 10 children in the last 11 years, including two who are twins.

Dr. Estes contends that the nutritive content of cooked foods averages 4 per cent while that of uncooked foods is 97 per cent.

STOP THAT COLD

THE FIRST DAY!

A cold once rooted is a cold of danger! Trust to no makeshift methods. A cold, being an internal infection calls for internal treatment. A cold also calls for a COLD remedy and not a preparation good for a number of other things as well. Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is internal and direct—and it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the system. Nothing less than this is inviting trouble. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist, 35c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and accept no substitute on any pretext.

ABDUCTOR OF PROFESSOR ALSO WANTED IN BANK ROBBERY

Youth Held in Kentucky Says He Shot Way Out of Trap at Kinney, Neb., Friday.

By the Associated Press.

MOREHEAD, Ky., Dec. 6—A youth, charged with assault in the kidnapping of a Morehead college professor and his eight-year-old daughter, admitted yesterday that he was Francis Harper, wanted in Nebraska on a bank robbery charge. He said he shot his way out of a trap at Kinney, Neb., last Friday night but denied participating in any bank robberies in Nebraska. The prisoner was taken to Lexington, Ky., for safekeeping.

Harper was captured in Lexington Tuesday night after abducting Prof. Henry J. Haggard, head of the agricultural department of Morehead Teachers College, and Haggard's daughter, Mary, in Morehead. They were forced at the point of a pistol into their car, and were released near Bluestone, seven miles west of here, unharmed.

Harper admitted he escaped in December 1933 from Joliet (Ill.) prison after serving 13 months of a five-year sentence for assault with a gun. He also said an automobile abandoned at Mount Sterling, Ky., Monday was the one he stole in fleeing from Kinney. Harper's friend, Earl J. Keeling of St. Joseph, Mo., was killed in the fight at Kinney.

Harper is wanted in Nebraska on a Federal warrant for the robbery of the Security National Bank of Superior, Nov. 22, 1933.

CULBERTSON WINS BUT LOSES TO SIMS

Two-to-One Pay-Off for Sure Ace of Spades More Than Offsets His Top Score.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.— Hal Sims won $17 from Ely Culbertson last night in a test of one of Culbertson's contract bridge theories. By stipulation, Culbertson had the ace of spades in every hand of 12 rubbers. To offset the advantage of the sure ace, Culbertson agreed to pay his losses at the rate of 10 cents a point as against 5 cents a point for Sims without regard to the score.

Culbertson and Sims are proponents of rival systems of bidding.

Before the match Culbertson said he never had been so sure of a theory in any bridge competition. His theory was that the sure ace of spades was an insuperable obstacle to his opponents even at odds of 2 to 1.

Culbertson and his partner, Albert H. Morehead, won eight of the 12 rubbers with a total score of $6780; Sims and his partner, B. Jay Becker, won four rubbers with a score of $260. Thus Sims' winnings at Sims' 10 cents a point were large enough to more than offset what they lost at 5 cents a point.

One of the conditions was that points should not be carried over; that calculations be the same as if there were a money settlement after each rubber. That was one of the things Sims banked on.

Culbertson had a theory that the ace of spades would mean many spade contracts for his side, yet in the largest rubber won by Sims and Becker, each of them made five spades on contracts for four. Culbertson and Morehead played more trump contracts than spades on anything else.

Here is the log: First rubber, Culbertson 1030 points, plus $15.50; second—Sims 490 points, Culbertson plus $2.50; third—Culbertson, 790 points, plus $26.10; fourth—Culbertson, 900 points, plus $71; fifth—Sims, 860 points, plus $8.10; sixth—Culbertson, 330 points, plus $1.50; seventh—Culbertson, 740 points, plus $38.50; eighth—Culbertson, 710 points, plus $74; ninth—Sims, 1150 points, plus $41; tenth—Culbertson, 270 points, Sims plus $27.50; eleventh—Culbertson, 2330 points, plus $89; and twelfth—Sims, 1060 points, plus $17.

Culbertson says he would play a match on the same terms again with anybody. Some days ago he had a private match of the same kind with Sims and in eight rubbers won $365.

He was a successful spade contractor by Sims:

METHODISTS SEEK ABOLITION OF PROFITS FROM LIQUOR

Also Protest Against All Forms of Advertising of Alcoholic Beverages.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6—A demand that all profits from liquor be abolished came today from the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

"The Government," the statement said, "is seriously compromising itself, and imperiling the strength of our democracy by accepting a profit from the liquor traffic, or by allowing individuals to make profit from it. These evils should be terminated."

The board protested against "all forms of advertising alcoholic beverages in the public press and over our radios" and called on the Government to "publicize the dangers inherent in the use of intoxicants."

It said "complete outlawry" of the liquor traffic "shall remain the ultimate objective of our temperance program."

$30,000 A YEAR FOR EX-WIFE

Suit Seeks to Force Francis V. du Pont to Provide This Amount.

RENO, Nev., Dec. 6—Francis V. du Pont, member of the socially prominent Wilmington (Del.) family, asked to provide his divorced wife, Katherine Clark du Pont, and their three children with an annual income of not less than $30,000, in a suit recently filed here.

Mrs. du Pont asked the court to annul a property settlement agreement she made with her husband, and to modify her Reno divorce decree, granted Dec. 14, 1931, as to assure her of the $30,000 income. Charging that she understood at the time the agreement was made that $30,000 would be paid to her each year, Mrs. du Pont's complaint charged that "for some time past the principal amounts of the trust funds have been grossly insufficient to insure . . . that amount."

DR. HOLT IS ELECTED CHURCH COUNCIL HEAD

Pastor of St. John's Methodist Here Made President of National Body.

By the Associated Press.

DAYTON, O., Dec. 6.—Dr. Ivan Holt of St. Louis today was elected president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

The St. Louis clergyman, minister of St. John's Methodist Episcopal Church, South, since 1918, was named to the two-year term of the presidency to succeed Dr. Albert W. Beaven, president of the Rochester-Cogitate Seminary, Rochester, N. Y.

Dr. George W. Richards, one of the leading church historians in the country and president of the theological seminary of the Reformed Church in the United States, at Lancaster, Pa., was elected vice-president to succeed Dr. Lewis S. Mudge. The elections were held at the closing session of the council's biennial meeting.

Dr. Holt is the son of a Southern family, born at De Witt, Ark., in 1888, and was graduated from Vanderbilt University. He received the degree of doctor of philosophy at the University of Chicago in 1909 and has received honorary degrees of doctor of divinity from Drake University and doctor of laws from Southern College.

Caught Stealing Whisky.

Two Negroes, arrested early yesterday back of the Walgreen drug store at 725 Washington avenue, admitted, police said, they had regularly stolen whisky from the store for the past five months, selling most of what they took for about $125. When the pair were arrested, police said, one of them had just handed to the other a package which contained whisky valued at

FIVE YEARS FOR BANK ROBBERY, $1000 FINE

Defendant Who Turned State's Witness Pleads Guilty of Oakland (Ill.) Holdup.

Gerald Johnson, 28-year-old automobile mechanic of East St. Louis, was sentenced to five years in the Federal Reformatory at Chillicothe, Ill., and fined $1000 by Federal Judge Wham at East St. Louis when he pleaded guilty yesterday of participation in a holdup of the Illinois (Ill.) National Bank in which $151 was stolen last July 20. He will be placed on probation for five years after his release.

A fine for leniency was made for Johnson by Joseph Schrader, St. Clair County Special Deputy Sheriff, who made the arrest. Johnson settled against six other men who were given 20-year penitentiary sentences at Danville, Ill.

In pronouncing sentence Judge Wham said that the case was one which should be dealt with severely since the robbers in making their getaway kidnapped E. N. Carter, the master and his assistant, W. G. Watson, and held them as hostages.

Lives Endangered.

"While these men were later released unharmed," Judge Wham said, "their lives would have been endangered had they resisted the robbers."

As Johnson was sentenced his wife, Mrs. Bert Reed of East St. Louis, left the courtroom, weeping.

The other six men who were arrested for taking part in the robbery at Danville are William Blomke, Walter Gilbert and Jaspar Chapman of St. Louis, Paul Hesmeray and Thomas Adams of Chillicothe, Ill., and Foster Max Dally of Marshall, Ill.

Ronald LeVault, 69 years old, of Seneca, Ill., was placed on probation for two years when he pleaded guilty of violating the internal revenue laws by selling untaxed liquor. LeVault has three great grandchildren. In sentencing him, Judge Wham remarked: "For the sake of our great-grandchildren I will let you go back home."

Other Liquor Sentences.

Other defendants pleading guilty to selling untaxed liquor and their sentences are: Harry Brandt, pharmacist, Benton, Ill., 30 days in jail; Floyd L. Burns, West Chicago, six months in jail; Charles Vassallo, Mascoutah, Ill., seven months in jail.

Peter Escue, Cairo, Ill., and Thomas Parham, Wickliffe, Ky., pleaded guilty of transporting a motor vehicle from Wickliffe to Cairo, Ill. Escue was sentenced to three years in the reformatory at Chillicothe, O., and Parham to 20 years in jail. In the same case Michael Prospero and Marshall Johnson, both of Chicago Heights, Ill., were sentenced to two years in Leavenworth penitentiary for passing a counterfeit $10 bill.

Admits Counterfeiting Plot.

Bernard Burton of Clinton, Ind., was sentenced to three years in Leavenworth and fined $1000 on a counterfeiting conspiracy charge. Burton conspired with Millard Hart, Paul Hill, Arthur Hobbs, Clinton, Ind., and John Seiffers, Paris, to pass counterfeit $10 bills. They pled guilty recently.

Michael Prospero and Marshall Johnson, both of Chicago Heights, Ill., were sentenced to two years in Leavenworth penitentiary for passing a counterfeit $10 bill.

Found Dead in Bed in Hotel.

Dick Ricca, 54 years old, was found dead in bed in his room at the Empress-Rialto Hotel, 3534 Olive Street, yesterday. Death is believed to have been due to natural causes.

Movie Time Table

any claim to greatness, or the right to leadership, in any line of human endeavor.

"Surely it must be realized that the laws, particularly of a democracy, are never static but always being rewritten in a continuing effort to influence the employment of the wealth and the man power of a nation in such a way as best to advance the general welfare.

"Unless the business men of America have been shell-shocked into nervous impotence there must come a time when they will respond to the fighting spirit of that old Admiral who signaled: 'Damn the torpedoes. Go ahead!'"

"An Organized Mob."

Dr. Virgil Jordan, president of the National Industrial Conference Board, declared "the Government is in fact in the hands of an organized mob, and no matter how idealistic its leaders or representatives may be, it is impossible for unorganized industry—an unorganized productive population—to co-operate with a mob if recovery is to be on the basis of private enterprise.

"If these leaders have become afraid of the Frankenstein they have created, if Government really wants recovery on the basis of private enterprise, the clear necessity is for co-operation of Government with industry.

"It must shift to industry both the responsibility and the power to act, and stand by only to see that the essential job of recovery is done and done well."

Jordan recommended establishment of a "business brain trust" and agencies of co-operation which can carry industry's recovery plan into action.

"This is the last call for recovery on the basis of private enterprise, and unless it is answered decisively in the next six months, it will be too late," he said.

values" the Government's biggest problem.

He struck an unusual note in one of his pronouncements.

"When within the scope of international possibilities we keep our armed force at a high standard," he said. "We need capital."

He announced that the stock exchanges in 22 German cities had been reduced to nine in number, each serving a district.

Stated Apples Profitable.

NEOSHO, Ill., Nov. 6.—Those orchardists who stored a lot of their apples this fall stand to make a nice profit. Already the price of apples has risen from 50 to 75 cents a bushel since packing time, and it seems possible that they will go much higher, as there will be a distinct shortage. Golden delicious has led in the demand.

PAGE 12C STOCK BUYING IS SELECTIVE IN EARLY TRADE

Numerous Industrials and Rails Are Narrowly Changed—Some Shares Are Moderately Lower.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK. Dec. 6.—The stock market was a highly selective affair today although the progressive trend still appeared to predominate.

Traditionally, stocks have in recent years in period to end up in afternoon. The compass comes to life for substantial gains and the aviation and farm machinery divisions improved materially. At the same time most of the old-line leaders were unable to do anything in particular, and scattered profit-taking in the recent outstanding gainers tended to restrain spurring proclivities.

The grains in same period quieted down after their sharp upturn yesterday and cotton showed little disposition to run away from the rest of the commodities. Bonds were fairly firm. Foreign exchanges recovered mildly in terms of the dollar.

Shares of National Lead got up 3 points, while Briggs and McKeown & Robbins advanced fractions to a point, all to new highs for the year. Anaconda and Kennecott coppers gained around a point each and Cerro de Pasco, U. S. Smelting and American Smelting were fractionally higher. Case, Deere and International Harvester were a point or so better, as were Phelps Dodge, Allied Chemical and Liquid Carbonic.

Advances of fractions to about a point were also shown by Aviation Corporation, Wright Aeronautical, Curtiss-Wright and United Airlines. The railroads and utilities held to a slim groove.

The tobacco eased and American Telephone, U. S. Steel, American Can, American Sugar, Montgomery Ward, Sears-Roebuck and du Pont were moderately better.

News of the Day. The news was not especially exciting, but most of it was viewed as optimistic. There were more extra, special and regular dividends to sustain bullish sentiment.

Predictions of a more than seasonal decline in freight car loadings for the week ended Dec. 1, did not aid the carrier stocks. Official loadings figures, to be published tomorrow, were estimated in one quarter at a decrease of 1½ per cent under the corresponding 1933 week and 13 per cent below the preceding week this year. Part of the drop from the previous week, however, would be accounted for by the Thanksgiving holiday.

Grain Freight Rate Cut. The Interstate Commerce Commission order for a downward revision of western railroad grain freight rates, effective April 1, was a surprise in most Wall street quarters. The financial district had been looking forward to an early decision on the railroads' request for a general increase in rates to offset higher operating costs.

The Bell Telephone System last month gained 16,200 stations compared with an increase of 5300 in November, 1933. It was estimated the increase for the full year would approximate 300,000 stations compared with a loss of 630,000 last year.

Following its recent loss of gold, the Bank of France's weekly statement showed a gain of 120,000,000 francs in its reserves of yellow metal.

The French franc opened at 65¾, up .00¢ of a cent. The British pound was up ½ of a cent at 49¾¢.

AGGREGATE MARKET VALUE OF LISTED BONDS GREATER

NEW YORK. Dec. 6.—There were 1375 bond issues aggregating $44,146,116,309 par value listed on the New York Stock Exchange, up 3 percent from October, with 1579 issues aggregating $44,082,890, up 2 percent and market value of $39,405,708,220 on Nov. 1.

CRUDE OIL STATISTICS

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON. Dec. 6.—The Bureau of Mines reported the nation's crude oil output, 16,775,000 barrels in October, a daily average of 555,777 barrels.

The comparison with September production of 17,810,000, averaging 562,333 barrels a day, showed a decline of 1,035,000 barrels, or 6 percent.

A decline in Texas production accounted for nearly all the lowered output in October.

The bureau said total demand for all oil increased in October to 45,450,000 barrels, or 1,486,000 barrels a day.

The bureau said crude stocks at the close of October were 14,830,000 barrels, up 345,000,000 in September and 256,840,000 in October, the last year.

Stocks of crude oil were up 1,000,000 barrels in October, compared with 1579 issues aggregating $44,082,890, up 2 percent and market value of $39,405,708,220 on Nov. 1.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK. Dec. 6.—Foreign exchange in Great Britain, demand 4.95½¢, cash 4.97½¢, up 1½ cent from October.

The franc was up 1 cent from October.

FOREIGN MARKETS AT A GLANCE

By the Associated Press.

LONDON. Dec. 6.—Trading was quiet on the Stock Exchange today.

German bonds were firms on Saar government, foreign debt securities and gold mining shares recovered their early losses.

Trans-Atlantic issues were strong on Wall Street, while other industrial stocks were easy. The market closed easy.

PARIS. Dec. 6.—Prices on the Bourse were strong today on the improvement in Wall Street, though the market was quiet toward the close wiped out most gains.

BERLIN. Dec. 6.—New financial measures produced further declines in the loan market with corresponding illusness in the share market, on the Bourse today. The closing was fairly steady.

HOGS STEADY ON BASIS OF YESTERDAY'S AVERAGE

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS.—Dec. 6. Calves 1500; hogs 14,500; sheep 1500; horses and mules 100.

Stockyards continued substantial, being estimated at 14,500 head, of which 2000 head were on through and direct holding. At 10 a.m. market was open and quiet. Trade not very heavy yesterday, but sales were substantial, at 113,300 head, against 73,535 head a week ago, and 94,760 last year.

There was a revival of shipping demand today and prices were fully in line with those of yesterday's average.

Shippers and butchers absorbed the bulk of desirable hogs, and the market was up $5.00, to 180¢ a head, with later figure as top. Drives of 180 to 190¢ a head were $35.00.

Trade was off 10¢ to 180¢, to 210¢, to 210¢. Half-hair fat hams were $5.65.

There were sharp discounts.

Packers also entered early. Most of the good hogs were held by shippers and buyers of late yesterday. Their best price was $5.80, for 180¢ a head.

Trade was off 10¢ to 180¢, to 210¢, to 210¢. Half-hair fat hams were $5.65.

PART OF CAHOOKA CREEK CANAL BID TENTATIVELY APPROVED

Pumping Equipment Award Tied Up, G. Locke Tarlton Likely to Get Rest of Work.

Tentative approval of the award of the contract for the Cahokia Creek canal project to G. Locke Tarlton, with the exception of that part relating to pumping equipment, has been given by Phillip Fleming, deputy PWA administrator, Steve H. Kerman, president of the East St. Louis and Sanitary District, said today. Kerman returned from Washington last night.

Fleming objected to the specification that pumps and oil engines be manufactured by one company, as it eliminated all but the bidding. Kerman said, "Kerman was directed to get affidavits from the bidders as to the cost of the pumping equipment and expected profits, and submit them to Fleming. That part of the project will then be reopened for bidding."

Kerman said that if there are no further delays work on the conduit and flood gates may start within two weeks. Tarlton's low bid was $2,259,033. The project is being financed by a PWA loan.

WILL OF JOHAN JOHANSEN,
SHOE MANUFACTURER, FILED

Estate Value Unestimated, Is Left to Widow, Three Children and Daughter-in-Law.

The will of Johan Johansen, co-founder of the shoe manufacturing firm bearing his name, was filed for probate at Clayton yesterday. His estate, of unestimated value, is to be distributed among his widow, three children and a daughter-in-law.

The widow will receive life insurance, the amount of which was not stated, and one-half of the income from a trust fund consisting of one-third of the estate. The remaining two-thirds will be divided equally between his son, Harry G. Johansen, president of the Johansen Brothers Shoe Co., and Mrs. Helen Wichman, a daughter.

Another son, John Alvin Johansen, and his wife, Grace, will share equally with the widow in the income from the trust fund created by setting aside one-third of the estate. The widow's share will go to Mr. and Mrs. John Alvin Johansen at her death, and at their death to their children.

Lead Changes in Checker Match.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 6.—Asa A. Long assumed the lead for the first time last night as he and Newell W. Banks, United States match champion since 1910, completed the fifth day of their world's championship checker contest. When play closed last night, Long was leading by a score of 3 to 2 and 11 draws. Twenty-four games remain to be played in the 40-game contest.

NATURAL GAS RACKET' INQUIRY SOUGHT BY NYE

Senator Mentions St. Louis
as One of Several Cities
'Sold Down the River'
by Monopolists.

By MARQUIS N. CHILDS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—In a statement calling for a "sweeping investigation" of the "natural gas racket," Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota said yesterday that he was referring to the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce the record of the receivership settlement suit of the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Co.

This is the case recently heard in Wilmington, Del., in which Frank P. Parish, president of the pipe line company, now in receivership, charged that great utility combines had parceled out the natural gas markets and had conspired to destroy his independent line.

Senator Nye's statement is based mainly on a 200-page brief which Parish prepared for filing in chancery court in Wilmington.

It was before this court that the receivership settlement suit was heard in August.

"Those facts, admitted and unchallenged by attorneys for the natural gas barons, alone justify a sweeping investigation."

Parish's Brief.

Parish's brief is a synopsis of the evidence which he entered in the record at the Wilmington hearing last summer. Many remarkable documents were entered on that record. Not the least remarkable were the telegrams which passed between Henry L. Doherty and Charles E. Mitchell, then head of the National City Bank. Doherty had good word that Mitchell's bank was about to extend a helping hand to Parish and he telephoned, in a burst of indignation, that this would be a violation of a "previous understanding."

Whether or not St. Louis was a likely market for natural gas was one of the chief points at issue before Chancellor Josiah Wolcott. Both sides introduced expert witnesses. Robert B. Brooks, former Director of Street and Sewers in St. Louis, testified that present gas pipe lines were furnishing more than enough gas to meet the demands of the St. Louis area. Parish introduced Frank E. Fisher, a natural gas engineer, who testified that as the result of a study of the region it was his belief St. Louis was "very strenuously anxious to obtain 100 per cent natural gas service."

Attorneys from various parts of the country assembled for the Wilmington hearing, almost filling the small Chancery Court room. Many days were taken up with involved testimony. It will be some time even after all the briefs are filed in the case, before Chancellor Wolcott gives a decision, he has indicated. And then it is probable that an appeal will be taken from whatever ruling he may make. Years more may be consumed before there is a final settlement in the courts.

HOUSING CHIEF CALLS ON INDUSTRY TO MODERNIZE

Moffett Says Program "Could Lift the Country Over the Hump in a Few Weeks."

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 6.—Federal Housing Administrator James A. Moffett said last night that the nation's large corporations "could lift the country over the hump in a few weeks" if they would start modernization programs "on the proper scale."

Moffett declared economists have estimated industry "should right now be spending approximately a billion dollars a year on commercial and factory building alone," not including "what should be spent to modernize machinery and other equipment." Speaking to a gathering of business leaders and industrialists, he continued:

"There are many industrial corporations that have written off large sums for depreciation of plants and equipment but have not in fact spent these sums for modernization. . . . One group declares that since 1929 factory and mine owners have been putting to one side nearly four billion dollars a year for depreciation of their machinery and factories, and spending very little of it. This group finds that in the past five years the corporations have piled up at least ten billion dollars which, if they chose, they could begin spending tomorrow for modernization and industrialists, he continued:

TO PHYSICIANS: Dr. Caldwell well Pine Balm. Balm is a careful preparation of highly volatile oils. Its speed, efficacy, and perfect safety commend it to professional use. Any practicing physician may have a supply of individual treatment by addressing Pepsin Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill.

TO DRUGGISTS: Pine Balm is so volatile that its pungent pine aroma reaches the very bronchial tubes. It starts its work in ten seconds. It relieves a head cold in a few minutes, and gradually loosens a chest cold overnight.

For a throat irritation, just swallow a lump of this remarkable preparation; sprays and gargles cannot compare with this newer treatment.

Dr. Caldwell Pine Balm is bringing surprising results with various types of colds. It is particularly valuable in treating children—whose stomachs are easily upset by internal medicines.

Powerful as it is, you can use it on any child—full-strength.

Making Starlings Sleepless.
$101,000,000 a Month.
How to Stop War Talk.
Wearing Down Niagara.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1934.)

TARLINGS, brought to this country to help English sparrows destroy caterpillars, have proved to be as great a nuisance as the sparrows.

Starlings, now paying their annual visit to Washington, are making themselves a nuisance, roosting in thousands of cornices and on trees. Government has assigned relief workers to get rid of them by rattling stones in tin cans all night.

The idea is that the birds kept awake will become disgusted and fly away.

History repeats itself in queer ways. The French writer, Taine, in his "Ancien Régime," tells of miserable peasants compelled to stay up all night, at the edge of the pond or lake under the castle window, beating the water with flails to keep frogs from croaking. Croaking frogs disturbed the noblemen's sleep.

Relief workers at least are paid to rattle stones. The poor peasants silenced the frogs without pay.

Before the big war started, the United States complained that the National Government cost $500,000,000 A YEAR for everything, army, navy, pensions included. Today the payroll of National Government employees alone—there are 680,181 of them—costs more than $101,000,000 a month or for Government employees alone, without counting army or navy, more than $1,200,000,000 a year.

Since the first of this year Government workers have been increased by 85,000. However, the total is still 225,000 below the maximum in war time, and we have war now, depression war, worse than the other.

You hear little talk now about Japan going to war with Russia. In fact, there is no talk. Japan will buy a Chinese railway that Russia wants to sell, or rather Manchukuo will buy it, and Japan, probably, will guarantee payment, at a fair price.

Why has peace suddenly settled down on that Far Eastern border land between Japan and Russia?

Here are two reasons: Just north of Vladivostok, within easy striking distance of Tokio, only a six-hour flight distant, Russia has a fleet of 900 airplanes, more than half of them heavy bombing planes. The air fleet command has a complete list of all Japanese industrial centers.

Another reason. Russia has at her new Vladivostok naval base, a fleet of submarines of the heaviest, latest type and is bringing in more all the time, knocked down, moved on freight trains to be assembled at the naval base.

Those submarines are only 450 miles from Japan's coast.

If Manchukuo had such an array of airplanes and submarines, Manchukuo would still be Chinese.

There seems to be truth in the remark made by an important Russian official in New York to this writer "there will be no war between Russia and Japan. Japan waited three years too long, and knows it."

Another mass of rock has fallen from the face of Niagara Falls, this time on the Canadian side. Slowly the cataract recedes up-stream as the stone cliff is worn away, and Niagara may cease to exist in a few thousand generations. It might pay Canada and the United States to put a coating of tough steel up and down the front of the rock.

Gradually our earth becomes more and more, completely round and smooth; crumbling frost and rains bring down the mountain tops. High spots come down, and except for unimportant volcanic action, there is nothing to pile up more mountains. In the course of millions of years, the earth might be completely round and smooth, no mountain or valley, in which case, the ocean would cover the entire globe at least two miles deep. There would be no land visible, and men would become exclusively boat dwellers and fish-eaters, or dig big artificial canals to hold the oceans' waters. Inhabitants of Mars, planet much older than ours, are thought by some astronomers to have dug such canals, and telescopes show the "Martian Canals."

You've heard of the drug trade carried on in penitentiaries, in one case, the chief dealer in drugs, a convict, having convict servants to wait upon him. You remember the interesting discovery that counterfeiting money was made in one prison. Now, a raid in the prison at Joliet, Ill., discloses a well-organized race-track gambler's bookmaking es-

Hollywood News Items A Discussion of Health

Fredric March to Play Opposite Greta Garbo in Screen Version Of Tolstoy's "Anna Karenina"

By Louella Parsons

YOU couldn't say that Fredric March is being typed, his screen performances have been too varied. But you can say that he is going to have a hard time escaping producers who want him for Tolstoy roles. He played opposite Anna Sten in "We Live Again" ("Resurrection") and now he will play opposite Greta Garbo in "Anna Karenina." Come what may, despite Garbo's plans for Christmas in Sweden and the summer David Selznick is seeking a career outside of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, "Anna Karenina" goes into production Feb. 14. And we hope Garbo gets a good picture. She is the favorite of so many people and she hasn't had a smash hit in several years. George Cukor and David Selznick are reported to have clashed over the direction of "David Copperfield." However, Hollywood feuds are seldom permanent.

Sally Eilers is certainly making up for lost time. She was off the screen for a number of months but now she starts on her contract with Universal. She and Lee Tracy have just finished "Carnival" for Columbia and she is getting ready immediately to be costarred in "I Happened in New York" with Chester Morris.

Alan Crosland directs and the play by Ward Morehouse and Jean Dairymple has a great part for Sally who looks prettier than ever since the arrival of Harry Joe Jr., known to his loving parents as "Poochie."

Jack Mulhall, who is a good enough sport to play small roles and to make his comeback in bits after being a leading man, is being rewarded. Jack

Warner has signed him for one of his principal roles in "North Shore" opposite Barbara Stanwyck. There is one thing about Jack Warner. More than any producer in Hollywood he holds out a helping hand again and again to anyone who needs it. Harry Cohn is another and who never feels that an actor with talent is out of the running.

Chatter in Hollywood: Glenda Farrell is no longer looking and lessening. She has a new interest in her life and has been dancing with the very attractive Philip Reed. Young Reed, who used to be Genevieve Tobin's shadow, suddenly appeared with the blonde Glenda, each entirely engrossed in the other's company. Philip is a Warner Brothers contract player and very good looking.

A line or two: Years ago Samuel Rachman was a power in Paramount. He brought Pola Negri, Eddie Jannings and Ernst Lubitsch to the attention of the American public. Then came a change in the picture map and we didn't hear any more of Rachman. Now his daughter, Gina, is here visiting Erich Pommer and getting ready for a motion picture debut. Edith Craig, widow of Ritchie Craig Jr., who died only a year or so ago, is working on shorts at RKO. She will be promoted shortly to one of the interesting roles in "Roberts." Al Santell, who spent three months in England without ever making a picture, has returned to Hollywood. Al had a quarrel with Toeplitz, the producer who sent him to come to England, and it seems it was all over a story. Rather than take a chance on what he was afraid might not turn out right, Al gave up the job and came back home.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: James Cagney, who hasn't been well for a long time, off for New York to see his physician; Charlie Chaplin Jr. and his brother, Sydney (the image of Charlie Sr.), discussing football with Paulette Goddard and Charlie Furtman; all of them were lunching and Paulette was taking the two boys, handsome youngsters in their military uniforms, to the games; Charlie St. Paul and Paulette Goddard tied up at the studio; the report is current again that Ruth Nagel and Sidney Franklin are to be married soon; Mrs. Milton Bren, Marion to her pals, has a job at Columbia selecting costumes for the pictures; Ben Lyon and Bebe Daniels will fly home to spend Christmas with Barbara Bebe, returning to Chicago to open there Dec. 28; Merle Oberon fighting the flu; John Colton, entertaining Mrs. Patrick Campbell, Constance Collier, Peggy Fears, Rosamond Pinchot and other stage celebrities now living in Hollywood; Anna Sten and her husband, Dr. Frencke, giving a dinner, served in Russian style and with excellent Russian delicacies.

The easiest way to wash rice is to place it in a sieve and let the cold water continue to run through until it comes through clear and free from starch. Rice should always be washed before using.

How Physician Judges Health By the Pulse

Heart Beat Normally Regular, But Affected by Nervous Connections.

By Logan Clendenning, M. D.

"THE familiar figure of the doctor, watch in hand," as S. Weir Mitchell's phrase is itself indicates the value of the hints given to the diagnostician by the pulse. It is almost impossible to dissociate our idea of the doctor from his watch and thermometer. And, indeed, these simple instruments of precision give more information to the well-trained mind than many of the expensive devices made by far more elaborate machines.

The pulse at the wrist—the "radial pulse" as we call it, because it is the pulsation of the radial artery—is a reflection of the contraction or beat of the heart transmitted along the exquisitely elastic walls of the arteries to the radial artery itself. If the heart contraction is a heating one, it is reflected in a large pulse. If the heart beat is a weak one, it is reflected in a small pulsation. If the heart stops for a moment, or if it beats irregularly, this, too, is reproduced with great minuteness in the radial pulse.

The heart beat, under normal conditions, is remarkably regular and similar in all human beings. In adult life it beats a little oftener than once a second—72 times a minute. It is a little faster in childhood and a little slower in old people. The hearts of different animals also contract at a given rate for nearly every species. The larger the animal, the more likely is the heart beat to be slow.

Of the 7-10 of a second which is occupied by a heart cycle, 3-10 are taken up with the contraction and 4-10 with the period of rest or relaxation. The heart muscle needs this period of rest in order to regain its ability to contract. Why the heart should beat rhythmically, with such even regularity, is a mystery to physiologists, but it is probably wrapped up in the time that it takes the heart to recover from the fatigue of a beat and regain this contractile power.

This rhythmicity is probably inherent in the heart muscle, because strips of heart muscle will contract when removed from the body, if placed in proper solutions.

But the heart also has nervous connections, and one set of nerves which terminates in the heart muscle will cause a rapid beat if stimulated, and another set will cause the heart to slow its rate if stimulated.

No wonder, then, since these nerves arise from the central nervous system, that when we are excited nervously or deeply affected in any emotional way, the rate of the heart changes. The mere excitement of an examination by a physician will often run the pulse rate up to 20 to 30 beats, and the experienced physician, in getting the pulse rate, frequently goes back and tries it again, after the patient has become more used to his presence.

The rapid heart beat is probably caused by the output of adrenalin which occurs in conditions of excitement, and which affects the vagus nerve to the heart. The pulse increases in rapidity, however, under many conditions, with nearly all the fevers and in shock, after an accident or injury, surgical operation, etc.

A slow pulse is usually considered by the life insurance companies to be a sign of long life. This is, of course, provided it is not too slow—that is, below 60. It is one of the old rules of thumb that pulses of 60 and thereabouts run in families, and are linked with a tendency to long life.

A DAY WITH THE DIONNE QUINTUPLETS

By Grate Troy

CALLANDER, Ont., Dec. 5. THE Dionne quintuplets are six months old. The five mites of humanity, whose birth May 28 started the world, have overcome the overwhelming odds against them and have completed the hazardous first half year of life. They are healthy, happy, normal babies now, secure in the modern hospital which the Dominion of Canada built for their exclusive use, across the road from the isolated little farmhouse where they were born.

A day spent in the Dafoe Hospital with the quintuplets is an adventure to thrill the most blasé city-dweller. In the midst of the desolate north woods section, the building stands in a clearing, about 50 feet from the frozen road. It is built of logs taken from the nearby forests and is enclosed by a seven-foot fence of barbed wire.

As you drive in the first sight that greets your eyes is a row of five little white iron cots lined up against the fence. Wrapped like identical cocoons, in many blankets, the five babies are sleeping peacefully, only their rosy faces visible, with silky dark lashes heightening the color of their chubby cheeks.

Inside you are greeted by Madame De Kerline, nurse in charge of the Dafoe Hospital, who has worked night and day with Dr. A. R. Dafoe of Callander, to see the famous babies safely through the dangerous first months of life.

It is before noon, and Madame De Kerline is busy in the spick and span kitchen, preparing the quintuplets' luncheon. On a table before a window are 20 sterilized bottles. As many more are in the process of being sterilized on the stove.

The smiling nurse in her crisp uniform stirs the babies' food on the electric stove, fills five bottles, and puts them aside to cool.

Five ounces of cows' milk, cereal and sugar. The milk is specially fed cows on the Dionne farm.

Two teaspoonsful of tomato juice, orange juice or prune juice.

The dinner frock which imitates a man's dinner suit continues to be important in holiday collections. Some new details, such as a blouse of silver lame and silk cord drawstrings, are noteworthy. An impressive frock that illustrates the trend is of heavy black crepe. The sleeveless blouse of metallic fabric is gathered at the neckline with a black silk cord. A wide belt which serves as a belt looks as well on the fitted jacket as it does on the dress. The skirt is instep length.

A blouse of one color and a skirt of another provide a striking combination, either for afternoon or evening wear. Vivid red velvet, for example, sets off a black skirt to excellent advantage, especially if the neckline is draped high at the front and the back is cut-out in sensational fashion. Emerald green and black prove equally charming as do the allusion of chartreuse green and brown.

Regardless of the color of your chiffon evening kerchief, it should display a large sequin initial. White kerchiefs indicate a preference for gold decorations while the black ones are effective with silver. If you wish a brighter color scheme, you may select red and black or green and brown. Initials, to be very up-to-date should be at least three inches long but whether they are script or bold doesn't seem to matter.

A color scheme can't be too vivid or unusual to please a smart woman this season. All sorts of novel colors which haven't been seen for years are returning with the revival of old-fashioned fabrics. One dinner frock of wine-red matelasse crepe introduces purple velvet flowers at the neckline. Another of the same design reverses the color scheme. Black tulip satin fashioning another stunning model which has a dash of flame-colored velvet.

Put flour on the scissors before cutting marshmallows and it will prevent sticking to the blades.

"Then I'll get right to work," said eyes are changing to brown, but they still look blue.

Contentedly they wait for their lunch, and when the five warm bottles are brought, five pairs of little hands reach for them.

The Dionne quintuplets rise early. At 5 a.m., when the Northern star still twinkles frostily in the Canadian night, Yvonne, Annette, Cecile, Emilie and Marie have their breakfast of milk and cereal in bottles, and orange or prune juice.

Breakfast over, the five healthy little sisters are placed in their home-made play-pen in the log-cabin hospital where every resource of modern science is at the command of the most famous babies in the world.

The play-pen is made from a board about six feet long, enclosed by boards about eight inches high. The babies have almost outgrown the play-pen now, and Madame de Kerline hopes they soon will have a specially constructed play-yard.

The five babies coo, gurgle and kick in the small enclosure. Each baby wears a little shirt and diaper, and a white flannel nightie and hand-knit jacket and bootees.

At 12:30 the babies are brought indoors for their noon feeding, and if the day is still fine they are then taken outdoors again to stay until 4 o'clock.

At 4 o'clock the quintuplets are brought back to the nursery, and dressed for dinner, in clean shirt,

Rev. J. F. Newton

I have lost faith in life," writes a dear English friend, in an essay: "we used to follow causes and for greatness and glory, before the very faculty of living has failed us."

As right we are in a very bad mood, and we must snap out of it. For life is all we have, be sure of it. If life is not good, there is nothing good. There is no all, except in life.

May not like some of the life, but if life itself is bad, it is fatal. If not held to supreme value it loses all and the bottom drops out of it, need not cast it away; it is link of life as a fading fleeting futility, a deception in death, is to destroy it. Let see life as truth, power, beauty, as deep responsibility in opportunity, or not at all. Tolstoy found life flat, stale, and he saw no reason for living with it. For a time he uttered despair, and had to tie the rope lest he should hang to the rafters of his room, day, while walking in the room, he noticed that every time thought God, there came an of vital energy, and life, had been pallid, became cold and full of meaning again, if for a moment.

IT'S MIGHTY FUNNY-YOU LOOK EXACTLY LIKE MY DANCE GAL SWEETHEART

(WHERE'S YOUR SISTER NOW?)

THAT'S BECAUSE WE'RE TWIN BROTHERS!

TWIN BROTHERS!

MEANS TWIN SISTERS

BUT WE'RE ENGAGED

WE'LL PROBABLY COME BACK

WICH WA YEA WANT TO FALL?

COME ON, FIGHT!

HE DID IT!!!

WHAT'L I DO NEXT?

DO I HAVE TO EAT THIS CACTUS BERRY?

YOU'LL HAVE TO IF YOU HURT ME AGAIN!

I HURT YOU AND KILL YOUR CONSCIENCE SO THAT IT WON'T BOTHER YOU NO MATTER WHAT YOU DO

FEELS SO MEAN I WANTS TO BE A OUTLAW—I WANTS TO SMACK EVER BODY DOWN!

SWELL! I THINK YOU ONE OF MY BEST FRIENDS—YOU MUST EAT LOTS OF BERRIES!

Might Try Free Lunches at Rallies

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

SENATOR COUZENS offers some suggestions to the Republicans who are attempting to sell a bill of goods without showing samples.

He says that's why they lost out last election. You cannot criticise a program unless you have a substitute. Don't say the meal is bad unless you can pull a sandwich out of your pocket.

The fight in the G. O. P. resembles a defeated pugilist punching himself in the nose. The party is due for a house cleaning but everybody wants to be the vacuum cleaner and nobody wants to be the dust.

In the meantime there is no organization, no platform and no working schedule. A political party is in a bad way when it cannot even think of something to promise.

WE'VE BEATEN THE SCORPION BACK FROM THE CANAL, WINSLOW — BUT "ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF SAFETY" — MORE THAN EVER, NOW, THE PEOPLE OF OUR COUNTRY MAY REALIZE THE VITAL IMPORTANCE OF KEEPING THIS CITADEL UPON A WAR BASIS!

I SHALL RECOMMEND THAT YOUR WORK HERE BE RECOGNIZED BY A CITATION FROM THE NAVY DEPARTMENT — AND NOW HERE COMES MY AIDE TO TAKE YOU ABOARD THE LANSING

MAY YOU HAVE A HAPPY CRUISE TO CHINA!

MANY THANKS, SIR!

SO LONG, PANAMA!

HATE TO LEAVE, RED?

DON AND RED ARE OFF FOR CHINA IN A DESTROYER BUT HIGH ADVENTURE AWAITS THEM IN MID-OCEAN. DON'T MISS THE BEGINNING IN TOMORROW'S PAPER.
